TO EXTEND FIFTH WARD ELECTION PROBE

ITALY BLASTS HOPES

Recount Shows Errors In Returns From Fifth Ward

Discrepancies Shown In First Precinct Report In Recent Election

RECOUNT TO INCLUDE OTHER PRECINCTS

Election Of Alderman Is Affected — Hearing Set For December 16

Gross errors in election returns from the first precinct of the fifth ward were found by Judge R. L. Hildebrand and assistants who have been checking the original ballots. As a result Judge Hildebrand, upon a petition presented by fifth ward citizens, has ordered the sheriff to bring in the ballot boxes from the other two precincts.

In the petition asking that they be brought in it was set forth that in the second precinct of the fifth ward, nineteen votes were legally cast for Richard R. Lewis, for alderman, and either through fraud, deceit or mistake, were not counted for Lewis. It is claimed that these 19 votes should be added to the 149 returned for Lewis.

Charge Returns Illegal

It is further set forth that in the first of the fifth ward the recount shows that returns as made by the election board were fraudulent and illegal. The count as made by Judge Hildebrand and attorneys for the office of alderman give David West 112, Samuel Bassano 224 and Richard R. Lewis 357. The returns as made by the election board gave West 124, Bassano 424 and Lewis 200.

Three-Point Program For U.S. Neutrality To Be Given To Congress

International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—Convinced that quick legislation is needed in the next session of congress to keep this country out of the general war feared brewing in Europe, the State department has commenced to formulate the neutrality program it intends to present to the legislative body.

Formulation of that program was discussed at an important State department conference called by Secretary of State Cordell Hull.

Three Point Program

Following the meeting, it was learned that Secretary Hull would like to obtain congressional approval of the following 3-point program:

January To See Campaign Start For Roosevelt

PARTY LEADERS TO MEET AT CAPITAL

Convention City Will Be Selected — Jackson Day Dinner Is Scheduled

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—President Roosevelt's campaign for re-election will be opened with more or less formality during the second week in January.

The Democratic National committee will assemble here on January 7 to select a convention city, and on the 8th it is planned to stage a Jackson Day dinner at which Mr. Roosevelt himself will be the chief speaker. The guest list will be a veritable who's who in the party.

Farley To Resign

About that time, too, or soon thereafter, James A. Farley intends to resign his cabinet post as postmaster general in order to devote his entire time to the '36 campaign. Those who have been gunning for the bald, genial New Yorker to relinquish either his cabinet post or the chairmanship of the National Committee will be appeased.

With President Roosevelt's renomination considered assured, the National Committee will be faced with three principal matters during its meeting here.

First, the selection of a convention city, which probably will go to

Rules Baby Is Anna Ware's Son

Decision Is Given In Famous St. Louis Baby Case This Morning

BABY CLAIMED BY TWO WOMEN

By ROBERT A. HEREFORD
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Dec. 5.—Acting in a Solomon-like role to decide the claims of two women for the same infant boy, Commissioner Rush H. Limbaugh today found that "the child is the son of Anna Ware" unwed domestic of Newton, Pa., and not the child of Mrs. Nellie Tipton Muench, wife of a St. Louis physician.

The commissioner's findings were contained in a report to the three judges of St. Louis court of appeals in which he recommended "the order and the judgment of the court should therefore be that the child be delivered into the custody of the petitioner (Anna Ware)."

Under the law the whole court must pass upon the commissioner's findings within the next week or ten days but it is customary to uphold the commissioner.

"Gift From God."

The Muenches had announced the birth of an infant boy to the 44-year-old Mrs. Muench at their home here August 18. Mrs. Muench termed the infant "a gift from God in my hour of need." She was at the time under indictment on charges of participation in the kidnaping of Dr.

Administration Leaders Profess Not To Have Any Fear Of Gov. Talmadge

By GEORGE DURNO
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WARM SPRINGS, Ga., Dec. 5.—An estimate of the southern political situation as it is complicated by Governor Eugene Talmadge, of Georgia, was to be laid before President Roosevelt today by administration stalwarts of the cracker state.

Senators Walter F. George and Richard B. Russell, Jr.; Georgia NEC director, Earle Cocke; and state RFC counsel Edgar Danlap, had been invited to the little White House. These are the men who arranged last week's "home-coming rally' at Atlanta which was designed to bring home forcibly to Talmadge the extent of Mr. Roosevelt's popularitiy in the south. They were bringing with them a report of Georgia's reaction to the president's Atlanta speech.

To Answer Roosevelt

Today's conference took on additional significance because tomorrow Governor Talmadge is going on the air over a national hookup with "Georgia's answer to Roosevelt." It is known that the red-gallused governor is going to tear into the administration again because he already has done excerpts of his speech for the newsreels and they are far from complimentary to the president or his policies.

"Does the president think the American people are asleep or dopey?" Talmadge will inquire as he takes issue with nearly everything Mr. Roosevelt said last Friday.

National Democratic leaders progress to be not concerned over the activities the picturesque Georgian who is offering himself as successor to the late Huey Long as a rallying point for anti-Roosevelt sentiment in Dixie. Nevertheless they went to considerable pains to stage the Atlanta rally—only to have

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5—Postmaster General Farley has turned thumbs down on proposals to wipe out three cent postage.

The attitude of the post office department and the administration dealt a severe blow to the hopes of many members on congress who have been planning a drive to restore the old two cent universal rate.

Farley, according to congressional informants, is determined to make the post office department self-sustaining if possible while the treasury is suffering tremendous deficits.

"Under present conditions the post office department is opposed to elimination of three cent postage," Chairman Mead (D) of New York of the house post office committee said today "I do not think any action will be taken in the next congress to change the present rate.

Last Session Of Nazarene Preachers' Convention This Evening

MANY WELL KNOWN CLERGYMEN ATTEND

Tonight's session in the local Nazarene church will bring to a close the Preachers' Mid-Year convention of the Pittsburgh Church of the Nazarene, which has been in progress since Tuesday.

With Rev. C. Warren Jones, district superintendent, in charge, the first business meeting was conducted Wednesday morning. A fine devotional spirit prevailed as Rev. Marsh of Akron, O., led the singing, and Rev. Charles Dye of the Kenmore church, Akron, O., brought the scripture lesson.

A number of ministers attending their first preachers' convention were introduced, among them Rev. Guy Siefarth, pastor of the First Nazarene church in Canton, O.

Evangelists Present

At this time a number of nationally known evangelists, Rev. Lum Jones, of Ada, Oklahoma; Rev. V. Littrell, of Alliance, O., and Rev. Russell and Leona Metcalf, of Lansing, Mich., were introduced.

Rev. J. G. Morrison of Kansas City, Mo., delivered a stirring message on "Stewardship of Love."

The Wednesday afternoon services were devoted entirely to missionary work. Dr. Morrison, the general missionary secretary of the Nazarene church, asked a congregational pause in silence as a tribute to the memory of Mrs. May McKey and son, who were tragically killed a short time ago in an automobile accident while in line of duty in India. Prayer was offered by Rev. C. Warren Jones for Rev. McKay, who is seriously injured. The family resided at Chattanooga, Tenn., when in this country.

When they start paying off for the largest buck shot this season the lad who is ahead of William F. Moody, 1308 Highland avenue, will have to be good. Mr. Moody was at Reis' Lodge in Forest county with a party of friends. Dr. Thomas Shaffer, of New Castle, dropped an eight-point buck; Robert Long, sales manager for the Lehigh Portland Cement Company, dropped an eight-pointer, and H. J. Davies, of Massillon, O., got one somewhat smaller.

Dr. Shaffer returned to New Castle Wednesday night and said that in all his hunting career he had never seen a finer specimen than the one Mr. Moody shot. He is having it mounted.

Grove City Man Dies After Accident In Mahoning Township

INJURED SEEKING TO START ENGINE

The tragic story of an accident which brought a painful and torturous death to an elderly Grove City man was unfolded at 10:40 a. m. today with the discovery of his body of William D. Shelley, 68, at the mouth of an oil well in Mahoning township, Lawrence county.

Mr. Shelley, was a partner in an oil lease on the farm owned by T. W. McGraw, near Edenburg. He passed the week days near the lease, boarding at the home of Mrs. Jane Reed, and the week ends at his home in Grove City.

He was last seen at about 1 o'clock Wednesday afternoon when he went to the oil well enclosure to start the gas engine used for pumping the oil.

Coroner Orville Potter, who was called to the scene after the body was found, believes that Shelley's glove caught on the clutch wheel of the engine when the wheel was turned in order to throw the engine into gear.

Drawn Into Wheel

The man's arm was drawn into the wheel and he was thrown over several times, breaking the bones badly. Shelley had been able to extricate himself, however, and crawled to the door of the shed. He was not able to get any farther. Death was due to exposure.

NINE WILL SERVE RECREATION WORK

Announcement was made today in the educational division of the Works Progress Administration of the final approval by State Director Edward N. Jones of the educational and recreational projects for the state. The approval means an expenditure of approximately $8,000,000 for Pennsylvania with about 6000 instructors being employed.

For this district it will mean the employment of 158 people, of which Lawrence county will get 27 instructors in education and nine in recreation, a total of 36.

The supervisory staff has been tentatively selected subject to approval by Charles M. Emerick, director of the educational division of the WPA in Harrisburg. The emergency education council of Lawrence county, with Dr. C. C. Green as chairman, will meet Tuesday afternoon, December 10, in the office of Dr. Green at 2:30 o'clock to organize as a body.

At this meeting final approval of the selection of the supervisory staff for the county will be made, also the approval of the educational and recreational projects. Since this council is also the council for the national youth administration, Dr. Green has been able to get Dr. J. W. McGowan, district director of the N. Y. A., to be present to explain the council's part in the very important program for the benefit of the youth between the ages of 16 and 25. John C. Hypnotizer Is Facing Suit By Irate Parents

Philadelphia Family Claim Man Has Hypnotic Power Over Young Girl

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 5.—When Horace Fornaci, 45, looked at their daughter, Virginia, 21, he cast a "hypnotic spell" over her, Mr. and Mrs. John L. Pyle charged today in a suit on file in common pleas court.

And despite the fact that Fornaci is married and the father of three children, Virginia is completely under his "subjugation," the parents added, asking a court injunction against Fornaci, a furniture dealer.

Until recently Fornaci was a neighbor of the Pyles, his alleged friendship with the girl beginning when he drove her and his own children to school when she was 11. Now, asserted the parents, he is contemplating moving to New York and setting Virginia up in an apartment "under the guise and excuse" that he is in love with her.

The Pyles ask that Fornaci be restrained from seeing or communicating with their daughter.

Fornaci denied the allegations and declared the reputed hypnotic power "is news to me," but observed "if I can hypnotize, I'd better make some money at it."

I often wish for the wealth of Midas, with time to spend all the money I had, and just for the purpose of buying some Christmas for every deserving young lassie and lad. I'd like to buy dolls by the dozens of carloads, to give to the kiddies who wont get a think, and I'd buy lots of trucks for the boys who would want them, firemen's helmets and birds that would sing. For I must confess I would like to play Santa, but only to those who I fear will be missed, for those who on Christmas wont know a full stocking, who wont even get candy or fruit or be kissed. A queer sort of wish I suppose you would call it, but then I suppose I am queer in that way, but just the same I can wish it each Christmas, the weather is up thirty seven today.

TO FIX COUNTY AID QUOTAS

Counties Must Pay For Relief

Part Of Burden To Be Apportioned To Local Districts By State

ESTIMATES ARE BEING PREPARED

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Dec. 5.—Pennsylvania's thousands of worry-beset local authorities awaited with apprehension today Gov. George H. Earle's release of estimates outlining their proportionate contributions to the cost of continuing direct relief after January 1.

The estimates, being prepared by Relief Director Robert L. Johnson, were to have been submitted to the governor yesterday. Neither the chief executive nor Johnson revealed the status of the report but it was understood the estimates, worked out in collaboration with WPA Administrator Edward N. Jones, would be submitted today.

From the report, relief heads and county officials will get an idea of what the administration considers their "fair share" of the relief burden, thrown back upon the state this week by the withdrawal of federal aid in a final allocation. State funds will be exhausted for this purpose January 1 and it is from then on that the commonwealth's 67 counties must "ante" into the fund for caring for the needy.

Local authorities were especially anxious to learn what will be expected of them as soon as possible because these added costs will have to be included in local budgets, now being drawn up.

cent rate between cities with a two cent rate for local post offices. This has done much to allay criticism of the action of congress.

"The reduction, however, has not had the effect of increasing revenues, by increasing volume, as many people had anticipated.

"The 40 hour week law for postal workers, which is a measure to spread employment will increase cost of operation perhaps $20,000,000 a year.

"Experience has shown that it will take two years to absorb increased costs through bettering efficiency of the workers and the normal growth of postal business."

THREE-POINT PROGRAM FOR U. S. NEUTRALITY GIVEN

prefer that this power be discretionary rather than mandatory, but is prepared to accept the latter.

2—Authorization for the president to withdraw protection from American citizens who engage in transactions with belligerent nations to the extent of endangering American neutrality.

3—Authorization for the president to restrict the shipment to warring nations of oil, copper, steel and other raw materials which can be converted quickly into war supplies. Secretary Hull wants the president to have authority to restrict the shipment of these "essential war materials" to normal levels in order to prevent the development of a war-profit trade.

This 3-point program is based on the State department theory that the best way to keep this country out of war is to try to prevent the outbreak of war. It also is in line with Secretary Hull's contention that it is the duty of the United States to exert "its moral influence throughout the world in support of peace and the peaceful settlement of controversies."

Don't curse the convicted man, Judge. Did you make yourself fine and smart? Well, he didn't make himself, either.

FAT GIRLS GET THE GO-BY—SLIM GIRLS WIN MEN

Lose Fat The Easy Way—Without Starvation Diets, or Back-Breaking, Bending and Rolling Exercises.

There's a reason why so many people find dieting slow and often times futile in reducing. The reason, doctors say, is often because a little gland is not working right.

All the blood in your body goes through this tiny gland sixteen times every day. If it doesn't pour into the blood stream about one and one-half drops of vital fluid every 24 hours, many people take on ugly fat. This fluid helps Nature to "burn up" excess food and fatty tissue in much the same way as a good "draft" acts in a furnace.

Now, physicians combat this condition by feeding this gland the substance it lacks—and millions of pounds of excess fat has been wiped out this way.

Marmola Prescription Tablets are based on the same scientific method used by doctors. So why not lose fat the easy way—without starvation diets or back-breaking, bending and rolling exercises? Start the Marmola treatment today that millions have used successfully to get rid of excess fat. The formula is in every box so you know just what you are taking. Don't wait—get Marmola today from druggists.

JANUARY TO SEE CAMPAIGN START FOR ROOSEVELT

the highest bidder, with Philadelphia, Atlantic City and Chicago expected to be the principal contestants.

Second, the pressing question of party finances, and how to finance the campaign.

Third, whether anything is to be done about the abrogation of the time-honored two-thirds nominating rule, which has disrupted several national conventions in the past, and which for a time threatened Mr. Roosevelt's nomination at Chicago in '32.

Finance Question Pressing

The question of party finances is the most pressing. The Democrats have not been out of the "red" since the day that Clem Shaver turned over the National Committee to John J. Raskob to conduct the Al Smith campaign in '28. Currently, the party deficit is in excess of $400,000, with a new campaign at hand which is going to require more money.

Successive Democratic campaigns to reduce this deficit and to assemble a war chest have been anything but successful. The slow trickle of contributions has been barely sufficient to defray operating expenses during the three years of the Roosevelt administration.

With industrialists, bankers and "big business" generally at odds with the administration over Roosevelt Social and Economic policies, the party fund solicitors are finding tough sledding in getting contributions. Important money from these sources is going the other way, to the Republicans, who have managed to clear up their deficit from the last campaign, and face the approaching campaign in relatively easy financial circumstances. There will be some stern talking about finances when the Democrats gather here January 7-8.

It appears to be uncertain at the moment whether the Democrats will seize the opportunity to abrogate the old two-thirds rule. It can only be done in a year where there is little or no contest over the nomination. The Roosevelt people found that out in Chicago three years ago. They were fearful that a blocking minority of one-third might upset their chances at Chicago, and endeavored to change the rules in the middle of the game. They abandoned the effort only when it became apparent that if they persisted it meant a bitter party split.

Southern Democrats, for the most part, are opposed to the abrogation of the two-thirds rule. The Southerners have always been jealous of their veto power over the big city delegations of the north, and are extremely loath, even now, to relinquish it.

Farley says it is up to the convention to decide. But it will be up to the National Committee whether to make a recommendation on the subject. In all probability there will be some sharp fighting over the matter, either in the committee or the convention.

ADMINISTRATION LEADERS DO NOT FEAR GOVERNOR TALMADGE

Talmadge pointedly snub the president at the last minute by failing to show up.

Administration Confident

Administration men in this state insist that Georgia will spank Talmadge soundly if he elects to call a presidential primary and put himself up against the president next year.

But they do not know what the outspoken governor is going to do. He controls the state machinery. He can call a primary or not as he elects.

If his hand-picked state committee refuses to call a primary, it is predicted there will be "a small-sized political revolution" in Georgia, with Roosevelt supporters undertaking to call one themselves. This would result in two delegations going to next year's Democratic National Convention from Georgia. Assuming the convention will be controlled by administration forces, there is little doubt as to which delegation would be seated by the credentials committee.

This aftrnoon, over the long-distance telephone, the president was to make a short speech in connection with dedication of the new foundation to the blind in New York City. Helen Keller, the famous blind woman, is interested in this project.

Other engagements on the president's list today included brief conferences with Clark Howell, Jr., of Atlanta, and Dr. F. D. Patterson, of Tuskegee Institute, and an inspection of the camp which houses the detail of 57 marines who are helping guard the little White House.

ELECTION LAW CHANGE URGED

emptions by fly-by-night parties whose candidates so clutter up voting machines that the devices cannot be used.

Harris urged the passage of two bills, one to reduce the number of candidates in the primary election and the other to prevent multiplicity of parties.

Too Many Candidates

Pointing out that voting machines could not be used in the Fifth Ward of Pittsburgh last November because in the primaries there were 100 candidates for council and 28 for county commissioner, Harris wrote the governor:

"The present law provides far too easy a manner of forming parties with the result that many parties are organized by securing a few signatures and if this is done to any great extent the voting machines—because of their limited capacity—will not be used."

"A glaring example of this occurred in one ward of the city of Pittsburgh," Harris said, "where a candidate for constable formed five parties for himself as a result of which voting machines were not used."

RULES BABY IS ANNA WARE'S SON

Isaac Dee Kelly, Jr., but was acquitted subsequently at her trial in Mexico, Mo.

Anna Ware charged that while the infant in the Muench home was hers, born to her in the home of a midwife here August 17 and taken from her shortly after birth. In a habeas corpus suit instituted to regain possession of her son she alleged the Muenches commissioned Wilfred Jones, a local attorney, to obtain her baby for them so they could "palm it off as their own."

The infant boy, central figure in the case, and now three months and three weeks old, is in the custody of the court of appeals as a ward of the court pending final disposition of the case.

"Under the cover of darkness," Commissioner Limbaugh's report stated, "and when only a few hours old the baby was taken from its mother's arms and to the home of the respondents Muench where it was thenceforth restrained of its liberty and deprived of its mother's care and custody."

"Mrs. Muench," the commissioner wrote, "did not give birth to a child on August 18, 1935," and declared that her claim to the infant "is nothing more than a sham and shallow pretense."

WARNING AGAINST PEACE OPTIMISM ISSUED BY ITALY

government circles that settlement of both the Italo-Ethiopian and the Italo-British situations still is far from being an actuality.

The plain inference was that Il Duce probably will veto the peace proposals presently under consideration. Whether they even may be used as a basis for negotiation appeared doubtful in view of the government warning today.

In particular, regarding the deliberations of Maurice Peterson, African expert of the British foreign office, and Rene Saint Quentin, African expert of the French foreign office, an Italian spokesman said:

"Experts are still experts and not negotiators. We know nothing of their work. We have no contact with them."

Frowns On Plan

Thus Italy frowned pessimistically upon the Anglo-French peace plan being concluded with all the diligence available in both Paris and London, and badly shattered hopes that a peace formula would be found before the League of Nations proceeds to further penalize Italy with oil and other sanctions on December 12.

Regarding the recent shifts of vessels of the British Mediterranean fleet, hailed in some quarters as indicating lessening of the Anglo-Italian tension, the spokesman said they were "purely technical," and had "no political character."

Still emphasizing there is much "undue" optimism current regarding the crisis, the spokesman said the call of Sir Eric Drummond, British ambassador, upon Fulvio Suvich, in charge of the Italian foreign office, today was confined to "the routine situation," and did not bear upon the real Anglo-Italian problems

The government spokesman's blast contained the first official Italian reaction to peace moves which have been gaining momentum during the past ten days.

It was issued on the eve of an important conference in Paris between Sir Samuel Hoare, British foreign minister, and Premier Pierre Laval at which an East African peace plan was to get its finishing touches.

The spokesman apparently left no stone unturned in proceeding to smother the growing hopes for peace. He touched upon all angles of the present crisis, squelching optimism on each one individually. The statement left no doubt that Premier Mussolini will hold out for real gains in any peace made, and served warning again that Italy is ready to fight the world economically to attain its goal in East Africa.

With Emperor Haile Selassie reported also stiffening in his attitude regarding peace proposals, today's move by the Italian government cast the entire war situation in an extremely gloomy light.

MARY A. BALPH CLASS HONORS ITS TEACHERS

Mary A. Balph Bible class of the Highland U. P. church entertained at a dinner party Wednesday evening, in the church, to honor their teacher of a past quarter of a century, Mrs. Mary A. Balph, who reached her 79th birthday yesterday.

For the past 25 years, Mrs. Balph has served the class most faithfully, and her recent resignation has been accepted with much regret. However, her interest in the class will continue unabated as she has been elected honorary teacher while the active class teaching will be carried on by Mrs. T. S. McAnlis.

From a group of 25 or thirty members in 1910, when the class was organized, the members now number in the neighborhood of 50, many of whom are Highland's most active workers. Of the original number there are still 12 charter members attending the regular class services on Sunday mornings, this number being included in last night's guest list; Mrs. Mary A. Balph, Mrs. Clarence H. Fischer, Mrs. T. A. Gilkey, Mrs. Elizabeth Mossman, Mrs. S. S. Sampson, Mrs. R. A. Eckles, Mrs. John L. Welch, Mrs. O. V. Wilson, Mrs. C. C. There were 77 guests including members, former members and the Sunday School Cabinet seated about the festive tables in the large dining room, which was decorated with yellow chrysanthemums. Yellow and white tones were used on the table to accent the flower arrangements, and the elegant chicken dinner was served by the Naomi circle.

In the evening, Mrs. Ralph gave an interesting class history, and remarks were made by T. A. Gilkey, who has been assistant teacher at various times, Rev. D. L. Ferguson, the pastor, and W. D. Jones, superintendent of the cabinet. A musical program was contributed by Mrs. C. G. Lindner and Mrs. Ellwood Gilbert and there was assembly singing.

Afterwards, the guests attended the service in the church, cherishing happy memories of a noted occasion which was most successful.

Mrs. Edith Barr, of 409 Bartrum avenue, has returned from a visit in Sharon, where on November 28, she attended the 54th wedding anniversary of her parents, Mr. and John P. Griffiths, prominent residents of the nearby city.

No special observance marked the occasion, although many friends of the couple and relatives called during the day. In addition to Mrs. Barr, there are other children who shared in the event, Mrs. J. D. Cline, of Cleveland; Jack, Wilbert and George, of Sharon.

Back in 1881, Elizabeth K. Pritchard, of Bangor, North Wales, became the bride of Mr. Griffith, a young miner, of Elbertson, Lancanshire, England, the ceremony being performed in the small ivy covered church in the latter village. A few months later, they settled in Quebec, but their residence there was short as there were no mines there.

Late in 18882, the couple moved to Elizabethtown, Pa., where their first daughter, Mrs. Cline, was born. In 1892 they moved to Grove City. In 1918 Mr. Griffith was appointed director of the poor, and the family again moved to Sharon. After filling the two year term, he ran for re-election, several times, serving 14 years altogether.

RE-DELTA-DECK CLUB AT WALTHER RESIDENCE

Mrs. Charles Philip Walther proved a charming hostess Wednesday evening to associates of the Re-Delta-Deck club, when she entertained in her home on Highland avenue. The hours were spent in the usual fashion, cards forming the diversion, with honor score prizes falling to Clara Bernine and Juliana Mackey at conclusion of play.

Special guests included Mrs. David Walter Kay and Mrs. Perry D. Rice, the latter a sister-in-law of the hostess. Both assisted in serving a dainty repast at a later hour, the tables being prettily decorated in seasonal tones.

Their Christmas party was planned, and Clara Bernine will open her Northview avenue home to the club for this celebration. The date falls on Wednesday, December 18.

DESSERT-BRIDGE IS FIELD CLUB EVENT

Mrs. John B. Waddington was hostess Wednesday afternoon to Field club women at a prettily appointed dessert-bridge party which marked another of their series of the season.

Dessert was served, with the card contests following immediately afterwards. Those fortunate in winning prizes were Mrs. J. H. Gibson and Mrs. J. E. Elliott.

A similar party will take place at the clubhouse on Wednesday, December 18, with Mrs. Louis Sandler filling the role of hostess.

Social Eight Club

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Carson have invited the Social Eight club to their home on Ryan avenue, Friday evening.

DINNER AND SHOWER FOR MRS. R. SWANTON

As a courtesy to Mrs. Richard Swanton, nee Maxine Morgan, whose marriage occurred a few weeks ago, F. L. C. class associates of the Second U. P. church, gathered in the bride's home on Crawford avenue, Tuesday evening, for a casserole dinner.

The table was attractive with a centerpiece of yellow flowers, on either side of which were tall yellow tapers, in pretty holders. After enjoying the delicacies provided, the group tendered Mrs. Swanton a surprise shower of lovely gifts.

J. F. Club Party Change

The J. F. F. club members will hold their Christmas party on December 17 at The Castleton, instead of the coming week as planned.

ONE HOUSE LEGISLATURE

A RATHER important date in the history of American government was recorded the other day when the Nebraska legislature adjourned. Unless a special session is called during the next year, that marked the last meeting of Nebraska's traditional two-house legislature. When the regular meeting time rolls around in 1937, a new, compact, one-chamber body of 43 members will convene.

It is noteworthy, too, that the closing hours of the two-house legislature were snarled up by a deadlock in the conference committee over important legislation which had passed the two houses in varying forms. It is such tangles as that which the new system seeks to make impossible.

Nebraska is taking an interesting step toward more efficient and less complicated state government. Some measures may be passed by the one house which would have been discarded by the present type of legislature and, to some extent, a safety valve has been removed from the careful passage of legislation. For the most part, however, legislative procedure will be greatly simplified.

It is an experiment which other states will watch with interest.

THE CHRISTMAS SEALS

"There is no discharge in that war." So the fight against the white enemy must go on without pause. Though medical science has made tuberculosis a less potent menace than it once was, it still leads to suffering and death all over the world. The Christmas Seals which appear every year offer one means of helping to eliminate a scourge that takes a heavy toll of humanity.

This year the sale of these attractively designed seals should be larger than ever. The cost is small in comparison with the results. It is easy to affix a seal to every letter or parcel sent out in this two score of days before Christmas. It is a little thing to do in behalf of a great work. And it exemplifies the spirit of the Christmas season.

TRYING "PEP UP" TREATMENTS

Work to "pep up" lethargic, under-weight children and adults has been started in a number of New York hospitals. The treatment includes thorough rubbing with wool fat, followed by carefully timed exposure to sun-ray lamps. The immediate results achieved are increased appetite and greater resistance to disease.

The sun lamp treatments have been used for some time. The use of the wool fat in connection with them is new. Presumably it serves as a medium for the better transformation of light into a form usuable by the body.

There was a time when the apathetic child was considered just tempermentally different from the alert, eager child. He was allowed to suffer this handicap in his education and social life. Nowadays intelligent parents, teachers and doctors know the child usually needs only to have some lack supplied in his system, environment or diet to become normal, efficient and happy.

Rudyard Kipling was no Columbus when he libeled woman by poetically opining "the female of the species is deadlier than the male." His pungent verse added to his repute, if not renown, though the words of another discoverer that woman may be perilous long had been known throughout Christendom in Adam's answer in the Garden: "She gave me of the tree, and I did eat."

Concretely, the Kipling aphorism purports to be borne out in American criminal life. J. Edgar Hoover, who rides herd on Uncle Sam's G-men, reveals that the tendency to homicide in female criminals is relatively greater than in males. More than nine out of every 100 women arrested in October were charged with murder, whereas there were only eight out of every 100 men. Figures for no one month are conclusive and these have a joker in them. Thirteen men were arrested for every woman, hence alleged men slayers outnumbered women more than 12 to 1.

And where does that leave Mr. Kipling?

TARIFF SLASHES BY PROCLAMATION

By proclamation of the president through Secretary of State Hull, Brazil joins the countries with which trade treaties have been negotiated. The agreements with Brazil and Canada become effective on January 1. Those reached with Cuba, Haiti, Sweden and Belgium are already in operation. Colombia will join the procession when ratification is completed. Negotiations are in process with several other nations, including Great Britain, France and Switzerland.

There isn't anything disturbing to American industry in the Brazilian treaty. Assurance is given that for two years importations of coffee will continue to come in free of duty, and coffee represents about 70 per cent of Brazil's exports to the United States.

The catch in all these treaties is that our reduced duties on imports also apply to every nation of importance on the face of the earth. Eighty-one may take advantage of them to the extent that they are able to furnish the specified products. Germany, which discriminates against American commerce, is the exception.

Were it the policy of the administration to sit down with a particular country and enter into a treaty exclusive to the two governments, care being taken that American industry should not suffer, reciprocal agreements could be advantageous. That would be in the nature of a horse trade with no outsiders involved. Fortunately trade circumstances and Brazilian products are such that in this particular case the treaty is virtually bilateral. But this is a peculiar instance. The administration insists upon proceeding under the most-favored-nation principle, which is to say that the moment an agreement is reached with one country the same slashed duties become generally applicable.

Spokesmen for the president are constantly attacking what they call high tariff rates. But they fear to go to congress and demand a revision downward. Instead, congress, by delegating its authority over the tariff, is permitting the president to slash rates in so-called reciprocal agreements. By this round-about method the Philadelphia Inquirer points out there is actually in progress a broad revision by proclamation that is gradually undermining the protective policy upon which the country has been built.

The 1936 prospects will not be improved if Mr. Hoover and Senator Borah proceed to saw the Republican party in two.

With apologies to the little red schoolhouse, references are now in order to the big schoolhouses in the red.

"My Empire" Wants Peace.
"Me, Too," Says Selassie.
Peace Seems Probable.
Pop Guns For Uncle Sam.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

ENGLAND'S Lord High Chancellor, Viscount Hailsham, read the king's speech, written by the king's cabinet.

The king's reference to steps "urgently necessary to safeguard my empire" are recommended to this government. We haven't any "empire" exactly, but we have a republic worth defending. Some of our loose billions might be well spent in that direction.

IGNORING some Italian friction, the kind went on to say:

"My relations with foreign powers continue friendly."

Mentioning the Italian misunderstanding, he said:

"My government will continue to exert their influence in favor of peace."

If it does, peace will come.

HAILE SELASSIE, emperor of Ethiopia, sensibly asked the Patriarch Johannes, supreme authority of the Ethiopian Coptic church, to arrange peace, if he can, with Mussolini, and Abuna Cyril, high bishop of his church, is also asked by Selassie to do his best.

And now comes from Universal Service the important authoritative report that Haile Selassie has agreed to give part of his territory to Italy in return for peace.

WASHINGTON says this country plans a series of Pacific ocean "Gibraltars" armed with 16-inch guns with a fighting range of 25 to 80 miles.

Quite amusing, considering that the original Gibraltar has become a useless rock, thanks to airplanes and submarines. Invading airplanes might not be kind enough to come within 25 or 30 miles of those interesting fixed Gibraltars.

What this country needs for coast protection is AIRPLANES, for fighting, and dirigibles for observation, located close enough together and high enough up in the air to make

All Of Us

I . . . I . . . I

WHEN I BREAK a shoe lace I frown and tie a knot in it and decide that this time I shall buy another pair this very day. . . . So far my record is clean; I have never yet hewed to that resolve.

Is there a law against keeping an extra pair of laces in the house? . . . There must be, I obey it so studiously.

I can't hold a hate more than a day or two. . . . Why can't I hold a hate any longer than that? Am I just a softy, or have I such an open mind that anybody can drive a team of horses through it? . . . I've heard of righteous anger. Is it different from the other kind?

A quotation I stumbled upon the other day, ascribed to Churton Collins: "What attracts us in a woman rarely binds us to her." . . . Examples: A pretty hat, a school girl complexion, joyous youth, a shapely form, a man's pity or desire to protect, a merry wink, being the life of the party. . . . Fortunately nearly every human being has, besides the "attractive" qualities, those more enduring ones that bind interest into love.

I saw a man writing music on a crowded street car, aware of no one else. . . . I stared and stared. . . . Of all human beings, the great composers interest me most, and I understand them least.

They say the loud laugh betrays the vacant mind. . . . Perhaps, but I know a brilliant man whose loud laugh shakes the window panes.

The older I get the more I despise self-pity—in the other fellow, naturally—in myself, as well.

ENIGMA

He saw a dog upon the street
And whistled him inside.
He got him out a plate of meat
And washed his tattered hide.

So plain the signs of hunger grim,
So thin the coat of white,
The man had but to glance at him
To understand his plight.

"Poor, hungry, homeless dog!"
said he,
"On whom all woes descend.
Come in and stay awhile with me
And I will be your friend."

Next day upon that self-same street
A man with downcast eye
Begged him for something warm
to eat,
But he went hurrying by.

Our ways are hard to catalogue
And so I wonder why
A man will feed a hungry dog
But pass his brother by.

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight, 4:35. Sun rises tomorrow, 7:07.

Another thing the United States has found out in the past three years is that there are more millions of dollars than any one ever dreamed there were. At least more were talked about.

Yes, and you can take back that package marked C. O. D. I ordered salmon.

If we ever did shoot a rabbit and it had horns we would change our brand of drinkin' likker, or quit drinking altogether.

New York, N. Y., Nov. 18.—Bernard M. Baruch wrote Captain Rickenbacker as follows: "Herewith you will find my check for $1,000 towards the Will Rodgers memorial. It is indeed a privilege for each and everyone to contribute something to the memory of this philosopher, for Will Rogers was indeed a philosopher. He seemed to clarify so many situations, often took a little swelling out of some heads, steadied many others, and in many instances gave heart and courage to those who needed encouragement. Few knew of his many contributions to innumerable causes. Whatever monument or memorial is erected to him, he will have one in the hearts and minds of the American people that is more enduring."

The fellows who hang their signs on their office doors, "Out to Lunch Will Be Back in Half an Hour" might better do their drinking nights.

There's something screwy in a world where the "fortunate" are rich and the only people who laugh are the poor.

ELEGY FOR A FASTIDIOUS PERSON

In life you had the very best
Or none, to fill your every need.
And now you lie in death's still rest
No doubt the worms are pedigreed!

Fish day once a week is enough. It takes the other six days to get the smell out of the house.

Pap declares it didn't take mother long to learn that a person can't talk much at an auction without it costing 'em regular money.

LIFE'S LITTLE AGONIES

A young son came to his mother one day carrying an invitation to a children's party. As it carried an R.S.V.P., the good mother at once dispatched an acceptance for her boy.

The young man attended the party. And some time afterward the mother asked him where the envelope was in which the invitation had come. The son replied:

"Oh, I didn't get any. I traded a marble for the invitation."

We have noticed after we have had nice weather all fall it generally turns in cold and makes up for it before spring.

The astute doctor always flatter a man by telling him he is working too hard.

THE DUKE CERTAINLY GOT THE BEST OF THE W. U.

When the Duke of Veragua was in this country he desired to stop at Columbus, Ohio, on his way to Washington, and wanted to send a telegram to the mayor informing him of the fact. He inquired at a Western Union telegraph office as to the cost, being a thrifty duke. "Twenty-five cents," the operator replied, "for ten words, not including address or signature."

Whereupon the Duke wrote this message: "Mayor of Columbus: I shall visit your city next Tuesday," and he signed it: "Cristobal Colon de Toledo y Larreategui de la Cerda Ramirez de Baquedancy Gante Almirante y Adelantado Mayor de las Judias, Marques de Jamaica, Duque de Veragua y de la Vega, Grande de Espano, Senor del Reino, Caballero de la insigne orden del Toison de Oro, Gran Cruz de la Conception de Villavicosa, Gentil Hombre de Camara del Rey de Espana."

Lots of people who are graceful when they dance are disgraceful otherwise.

The modern question of hard times is in some instances a matter of forcing a family to get along with one automobile.

Kissing comes as natural to a girl as a fly does to a bald head.

HERE WAS PROOF THAT IT NEVER RAINED THERE

Senator Henry F. Ashurst, of Arizona, relates that an eastern tourist was traveling the southwest and stopped in a particularly dry section of Arizona.

"This place is the limit," he remarked, addressing a native. "I don't think there is another locality on the face of the earth that is quite so dry. Doesn't it ever rain in this section?"

"Rain!" exclaimed the native. "Say, stranger, we've got bullfrogs around here over eight years old that hain't learned to swim yet."

A world calamity is like a car wreck. The amount of fool driving makes you wonder what delays it.

You will see several thousand mighty fine looking people in New Castle next week when the Pennsylvania State Grangers hold their annual convention here. It's up to New Castle to do as they always do, treat them all so they will want to come back again.

You haven't heard scorn at it's worst until you hear a woman say "She's Old!"

The man who had built the new town, and was showing William J. Bryan about the place, pointed with pride to a pretty little church just completed.

"Do you belong to the church?" asked Mr. Bryan.

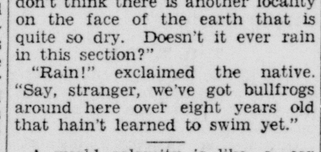
"I should say not," replied the millionaire with an air of injured pride, "the church belongs to me."

Nature gives you a hint. The fatter you get the harder it is to get close to the table.

You seldom see any person any more looking for a job on a morning when a lot of snow fell. Most any person would be willing to have the snow removed from his walks if some one would want to do the job. We had to take the snow away from our walks a few days ago and we nearly busted ourselves. Our mind works faster than our hands, which is not so good.

But if you kill anybody who criticises you, you're just a murderer instead of a dictator.

Woe is universal, and the man who gets wealth and fame is made miserable by an ornery son or indigestion.



Exaggeration isn't lying you must say that you nearly died laughing to put over the idea that you were amused.

If they skimp at home so they can make a show when they travel they are definitely middle class.

All some bimbos want is an excuse not to pay and they certainly have not had to look for excuses in the past several years.

Perhaps the finest compliment ever paid a woman was received by the very beautiful Duchess of Devonshire as she was stepping out of her carriage one day before a house at which a coal heaver was shoveling coal. The coal heaver had filled his pipe and was just about to light it when he saw the duchess. With his eyes fixed upon her and with the greatest delight that ever shows in a man's face, he said: "Bless you, my lady, will you let me light my pipe in your eyes?"

A depression is never over until those who think it wicked to beat your debts are again a majority.

After you get to be about sixty years of age you will find the days too long and the nights too short. It's just the reverse along about the age of twenty.

TODAY'S STORYETTE

A swollen-headed young actor was told that an interviewer wanted to see him.

He gave the visitor full particulars of his new contract, mentioned an enormous weekly sum he was to get as salary.

"And what paper do you represent?" he asked.

"No paper," said the visitor cheerfully. "I'm from the income tax office."

All people are proud of something. If they never learned good manners, they are proud of being frank.

A Hebrew motorist, driving through a village, noticed a house for sale and, wishing to inspect it, he called at the estate office and asked for the key. The agent refused to let him have it.

"We don't have Jews in this village," he explained.

"I thought not," replied the Jew. "That's vy it's a village."

Under the Wagner bill the employer still would be permitted to watch the wheels go round.

By FRANCINE MARKEL

What is the proper daytime and evening attire for a butler?

P. D. M.

Answer—When he is on duty, admitting guests at an afternoon function or earlier, he should wear black trousers with gray stripes, a double-breasted, high-cut black waistcoat and black tail-coat, a white stiff-bosomed shirt, a standing collar and a black four-in-hand tie.

During evening functions taking place after 6 p.m., he should wear full evening clothes, the coat of which should have plain lapels, the trousers being without braid. With these he should wear a white wash-bow tie and a black waistcoat. His master, of course, wears a white waistcoat with his formal evening clothes, the trousers of which always have braid down the sides and the coat has satin lapels.

In the early morning a butler may wear a black or very dark blue sack suit with a somber, inconspicuous necktie.

No "Breathing Spell" Congress.
New Session Will Have Problems.
President Faces Four Fronts.

Central Press
New York Exchange
235 East 45th St.
By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—Observing persons say this will be no "breathing spell" congress (beginning Jan. 6)—however much President Roosevelt desires it to be.

Nor is there likely to be a breathing spell in the trend and climax of world events.

Nor is there as much demand for a balanced budget as for spending in behalf of a particular group or plan.

There are four fronts President Roosevelt has to face, and he is trying to conciliate all of them by inaction, letting "prosperity take its course". But, the trouble is, the groups on the four fronts will give him no rest. They will prod him to fight back; one or two would like fight annihilate him altogether.

One one front President Roosevelt has Big Business, determined to get rid of him.

On another front are the special interest groups, veterans demanding the bonus, farm organizations demanding issuance of greenbacks for mortgage financing, the Townsendites demanding an annual tax that is nearly as great as the federal debt.

On still another front are the liberals, with strong representation in the senate, who believe that merely a small part of a necessary program has been enacted.

And, finally, on a fourth front there is the foreign situation. War and neutrality are not the only problems. There is the international financial situation. If France goes off the gold standard, the entire monetary structure of the world will have to be changed—and the United States is likely to be affected most of all.

IF LAWS OUTLAWED?

Suppose Big Business succeeds in having all the major New Deal laws declared invalid by the U. S. supreme court—will the president remain inactive then?

The guess is, No.

Big Business does not expect him to. It plans to give Mr. Roosevelt the heaviest battle it has given to any nominee.

It is over-anxious to get a Republican into the presidency—any Republican. There is a reason beyond all the reasons given publicly.

Members of the U. S. supreme court are getting up in years. Probably two or three members will be named during the next presidential term—enough to sway the court. The majority of the present membership was named by Republican presidents. If Mr. Roosevelt has an opportunity to name any members, it is a foregone conclusion that the senate will confirm the nominations, for the senate will remain strongly Democratic, no matter which way the election goes. The president may even name a liberal senator or two—thus, there would not be the slightest doubt of senate approval.

MONEY GROUPS

Nobody who has traveled around the country much can see any real evidence of people keeping hands off the public treasury or the monetary system.

Plans for "expanding" money are heard everywhere.

But no one satisfactorily explains how money can be "expanded" except by taking it from those who have it (and in the end that means those who have a little of it and do not know how to hide it).

Coming up in this session of congress will be the Frazier-Lemke farm mortgage bill, under which $3,000,000,000 in greenbacks could be issued.

Then there is the Bankhead measure providing for $1,000,000,000 in loans to tenant farmers.

Then, there is the financing of various relief measures (the relief problem is far from ended) and the cost of building up the navy, in the new arms race.

And not least is the increasing pressure of the Townsend Old Age Pension group. They would find 22 or 24 billions a year, in a transactions' tax!

Those represent merely a few of the groups. A president is more likely to be defeated if he doesn't heed them, than if he does—despite the shouts of Big Business.

LIBERALS

Liberals have been strangely quiet. Perhaps they are passing, and radicals will take their place, as elsewhere.

But liberals remain an important force in the senate. And behind them is organized labor, as well as the majority of intellectual groups.

They insist that the president go much farther. They will desire NRA regulation, particularly as to hours and conditions of labor and competition. They believe that unrestrained competition will plunge the world into chaos. They desire further regulation of commodity exchanges, they will press for a 30-hour-week bill, a pure food and drugs bill, a comprehensive permanent national relief and social planning organization.

And they will try to force through a neutrality bill which would be so severe that it would take virtually all the power out of the president's hands, in so far as policy on foreign conflicts goes.

FOREIGN SITUATION

The various arguments on neutrality will not be discussed here today. They would require a separate column. Neutrality is not the simple matter many suppose. It is a double-edged instrument—a very delicate instrument.

The financial crisis in France is of more immediate concern.

Suppose France devalues the franc?

Will a currency war be on?

Will the franc become stabilized at a lower and more profitable level for France (measured in terms of foreign trade)?

If so, will gold flow out of the United States? Will a deflation rebegin in the United States?

Those are matters financial New York is discussing.

Since nations have based their monetary systems so largely on nationalistic ventures (as has the United States), they seem more sensitive than ever to world changes, which they sought to circumvent.

The currency crisis in France is of immense concern to the United States—not only to financial New York, but to every worker, to every farmer, to every business man. It may even turn the presidential election.

LAST CENTURY STORY

Felix (Arizona Red) Mayhew was raised at the Halfway House, where his father ran a tavern for stage coach passengers between Casa Grande and Florence. His dad went away once and left Felix in charge with Trinidad, a hired man.

An Englishman came through in a buckboard and bought something. Felix accepted an English guinea in payment and gave change for $10; it reminded him of a $10 gold piece, even though it looked a bit phoney to the 12-year-old Felix.

The Englishman went; Trinidad came in from the corrals. That ain't $10; that's English money, it ain't worth but $5.00," said Trinidad, who somehow had got educated. "Gee whiz—what'll Pa say?" was what Felix thought.

Felix got out his rifle (he could

150 Years Ago Today—One of the most remarkable coincidences in history occurred. A vessel carrying 60 passengers sank while crossing Menai Straits, Wales. The sole survivor was a man named Hugh Williams.

Exactly 121 years before to the day another vessel carrying 81 passengers foundered in the straits and the only survivor was a man named Hugh Williams.

The coincidence didn't end there. Thirty-five years later, in August 1820, another vessel carrying 25 sank in Menai. Again the sole survivor was one Hugh Williams!

Manufacturers Urge Return To American System Of Business

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—A "platform of business" urging a return to the "American system" of business expansion and economic progress, will be adopted today at the fortieth annual convention of the national association of manufacturers, it was reported last night.

The "platform," it was said, will be greatly at variance with the platform adopted by the manufacturers last year and will constitute a definite rebuff to President Roosevelt's industrial coordinator, George L. Berry, who has issued a call to business executives to attend industrial planning meeting in Washington next week.

The following seven planks, it was reliably reported, will comprise the platform:

1. Maintenance of constitutional guarantees and protection of the American constitution.
2. Preservation of individual enterprise.
3. Elimination of undue regulation of private business.
4. Opposition to excessive taxation, unsound government financing and excessive federal expenditures beyond the normal expenses of government.
5. Establishment of a national currency upon a dollar of fixed gold content.
6. Adherence to the natural theory of "economic progress" as the best means for social security.
7. Adherence to the "American" system.

Last year the convention adopted and ratified a resolution pledging friendly cooperation with the Roosevelt administration.

Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., president of General Motors, was the principal speaker at a banquet attended by 1,500 of the visiting business men last night.

The keynote of his address was a warning to business that it must assume broader responsibilities or face the alternative of increasing governmental interference.

TRUCK DRIVERS SETTLE STRIKE

Fresh Fruits And Vegetables Again Move Through Philadelphia

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 5.—Fresh fruits and vegetables moved through the city today for the first time in six days with the settlement of a strike by 3,000 union trucking drivers here.

An order cancelling the walkout was issued by union leaders following a conference with produce dealers and trucking operators in which the labor forces claimed a complete victory. Agreements between the hauling firms and employes included a minimum $30 weekly wage for drivers, a 40-cent an hour rate for helpers and a 48-hour week.

Police reserves were withdrawn as the jubilant drivers began work at produce terminals where nearly 400 loaded refrigerator cars were boycotted when the strike began.

Governor Of State Reaches His 45th Birthday, Plans Conferences

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Dec. 5.—Gov. George H. Earle's 45th birthday arrived today but it didn't appear the event would provide much of a holiday.

Worn by his flying trip from New York and a busy session at the capitol yesterday, the governor rested at the executive mansion this morning.

Later in the day he was to confer with U. S. Senator Joseph F. Guffey and other administration leaders and also meet with Relief Director Robert L. Johnson to receive the latter's important estimates on local relief needs.

Governor Earle was born Dec. 5, 1890, at Devon, Chester county.

them really useful in the next war.

Nothing important will be done from the ground.

Trying to protect Hawaii, the Panama Canal, and strategic points on the Pacific with guns on the ground is childish. What could those guns do against planes going 250 miles an hour, 20,000 feet up, coming not four, five or ten at a time, but in clouds of thousands like mosquitoes?

PRINCE SUMI of Japan, brother of the Mikado, fourth son of the late Emperor Yoshihito, takes the title of "Prince Mikasa," meaning, literally, "Prince of the Three Umbrellas." The name "Three Umbrellas" is taken from a Japanese mountain and is also the much revered name of the flagship on which Admiral Togo fought the battle of the Japan Sea.

"Three Umbrellas" seems appropriate, one for Japan, one for China, one for the Philippines, all JAPANESE.

DEMOCRATS are trying to decide on a convention city. President Roosevelt, asked if he had suggested Philadelphia, replied smiling:

"You will be asking me the same question about other cities."

For him, Chicago might be lucky enough.

Republicans, still trying to pick a candidate, would do well to hurry.

When President Roosevelt was asked whether he would be a candidate, he replied in the words of the Tammany chief Murphy:

"The convention will decide."

He likes a joke.

UNCLE SAM sold his latest $900,000,000 batch of bonds before anybody could say "Jack Robinson" and now the administration has two thousand million dollars, good American cash on hand. Come on, you Republicans, let us see what kind of a "bank-roll" you have.

THE VILLAGE of Verde Cocha, near Guayaquil, in Ecuador, exists no longer. A landslide wiped out everything, instantly killing the 50 inhabitants. A slice of green mountainside, two miles wide, came roaring down; and there was no trace of the village and no man lived to tell about it.

But other men will rebuild Verde Cocha, for men are as persistent as ants that rebuild their little villages when the gardener's hose sweeps them away.

FARMERS do not get all the government money. Mr. Ridder says WPA will spend hereafter in New York City at the rate of $5,550,000 a week on new jobs, which ought to help substantially.

It was at first proposed to pay skilled mechanics only $93 a month, but union labor protested, and now skilled mechanics will get $90 a month and be required to work only seven days.

That arrangement would seem almost like luxury to farmers—7 days' work a month and 23 days to discuss politics.

shoot the eye out of a rabbit) and saddled his horse. He cut the Englishman off at a dry lake and ambushed him. He stepped out of the ambush with a bead all drawn. "throw up your hands, you-you-you!"

"What's wrong, boy?" asked the Englishman, doing so. "You gave me some damned old English money—you cheated me!" blubbered Felix. ("I'd have shot him if he'd batted an eye!") "Take that gun down, boy!" begged the Englishman, twice.

Finally, the poor devil managed to get one hand into his pocket; he refunded $5.00 to Felix; Felix took his gun down and rode home. "I got him, Trinidad!" he said, and Pa had nothing to say.

But the Englishman stuck around that dry lake all the next day, ambushing two stage coaches and several private buckboards. He robbed the men with smooth hands, because they hadn't worked for their money; the laboring boys went scotfree.

So there was a hue and a cry after this Englishman—and the word got around that the Mayhew brat was a pretty tough hombre; he was the guy who stuck up that bad man from England!

New Sensation In Hauptmann Case Promised

New York Paper Presents Story About Secret Investigation

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—According to a story appearing today in the New York Evening Journal, Governor Hoffman of New Jersey has been conducting a private investigation of Bruno Richard Hauptmann's case and has uncovered facts which may inject new sensations into the famous Lindbergh crime.

The newspaper states it has learned from an unimpeachable source close to the governor that the new facts uncovered may save Hauptmann from the electric chair or at least delay his execution indefinitely.

The governor launched his investigation last April, according to the Journal's story, and pressed into service a nationally famous detective, who is a resident of New Jersey.

May Not Die

"Just what the governor's private investigation turned up, I don't know," the Journal quotes an unnamed "high state official" as declaring. "But one thing is certain. Hauptmann is a long way from the electric chair, no matter what the U. S. supreme court decides on his petition. Hauptmann may never die in the electric chair.

"Ever since Hauptmann's conviction, the governor was anxious to sift the wheat from the chaff in the trial at Flemington. Many of us, along with the governor, thought the case could stand some private investigation.

"Governor Hoffman took the initiative and ordered the best detectives in the country to take charge privately. I don't believe either the state or federal police are aware of this."

The Journal adds that although the name of the detective heading the investigation was not learned, Ellis Parker, ace investigator for Burlington county, has been a regular and frequent visitor to the governor's office in Trenton.

Amits Interest

Trenton, N. J., Dec. 5.—Gov. Harold G. Hoffman of New Jersey, who may hold the ultimate fate of Bruno Richard Hauptmann in his hands, has preserved an open mind on the case it was disclosed today by William S. Conklin, Hoffman's press assistant in confirming that since last April Ellis H. Parker, nationally-known detective, has been investigating the case.

Parker, Conklin revealed, has discussed the Lindbergh kidnaping and Hauptmann's conviction with the governor several times.

"As to the guilt or innocense of Hauptmann," Conklin added, "the governor has not formed any opinion."

The press assistant said Parker has been interested in the case since its inception and that his investigation has been "on his own hook."

Meantime, it was learned that Parker has visited the state prison here, where Hauptmann is in a death cell, some five or six times since the former German machine gunner was brought here from Flemington after his conviction.

Col. Mark O. Kimberling, principal keeper at the prison, said Parker had not seen Hauptmann there and that he "came on other cases."

British Blockade Of Suez Canal Is Urging Of League

Would Have British Cut Off Communications With Africa

(International News Service)

LONDON, Dec. 5.—The British government today was called upon in a resolution by the League of Nations union to "undertake to cut off Italy's communication's with Africa" if economic pressure fails to halt the Ethiopian war.

Gilbert Murray, famous classical scholar and chairman of the union, told the organization he thought the United States would stop supplying Italy with petroleum or limiting quantities to normal requirements.

In calling upon Britain to use its fleet to isolate the Italian expeditionary force, the union followed up an earlier resolution, urging the country to be ready to enforce sanctions with military measures.

"The Doctor was RIGHT!"

Women should take only liquid laxatives

THREE STEPS TO RELIEVING CONSTIPATION

I Measure-out a cleansing dose of liquid laxative, regulating the amount to suit the age, condition and individual need.

II Tomorrow, take less; let the regular muscular action of bowels do part of the work—

III Use less each time until bowels require no aid at all.

SOME say there's no relief from constipation on account of the things we eat and the way we live, today. It isn't true!

Many believe any laxative they might take only makes matters worse. And that isn't true.

Do what doctors do to relieve such a condition. They use liquid laxatives, and keep reducing the dose until the bowels need no help at all.

Reduced dosage is the secret of aiding Nature in restoring regularity. You must use a little less laxative each time, and that's why your laxative should be in liquid form. A liquid dose can be regulated to the drop.

The liquid laxative generally used is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It contains senna and cascara — both natural laxatives that form no habit even with children. It's the nicest tasting, nicest acting laxative you ever tried. You'll never go back to fixed doses of strong cathartics that act with such violence!

Ask your doctor. Ask your druggist how popular liquid laxatives have become. Or get a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and if it doesn't give you absolute relief, if it isn't a joy and comfort in the way it overcomes any sluggishness or biliousness due to constipation, return it and get your money.

Try Syrup Pepsin! Just take regulated doses until Nature has restored regularity.

Senior Class To Present Play

January Graduating Class At High School To Give "Huckleberry Finn"

EVENT SCHEDULED FOR COMING WEEK

The commencement season for the January graduates at the senior high school gets under way Friday evening, December 13, with the public presentation of the class play.

The play chosen is again pure comedy, this time Roy F. Lewis' stage version of "Huckleberry Finn" will be the contribution of the local school to the commemoration of the centennial of Mark Twain's birth. Huckleberry Finn's sense of humor was too highly developed for the comfort of Aunt Polly and her sister Ruth, who had befriended him and taken him into their home, but it is "Huck's" bubbling spirits and everlasting quest for adventure which create the dramatic situations in the play. Under the able supervision of the dramatics coach, Miss Clara Hartsuff, the student actors can be depended on to make the most of the skilful mingling of comedy and pathos.

The proceeds from this customary stage venture of the January class of '35 will be used to help defray the cost of the graduates' souvenir commencement publication, "The Ne-Ca-Hi". Some of the money will reduce the cost of tickets to the senior dinner-dance, making it possible for more graduates to attend this chief social function of their commencement events. New Music for the school orchestra goes into the expense account of the production and is thereafter part of the growing musical library of that organization. Finally, if and whenever there is anything left after these heavy drafts on their capital have been met, the class likes to make a gift of some sort to the school.

There are many worthy projects for such a gift this year, new curtains for the stage, an amplifying system for the auditorium, stage furniture to take the place of furniture which at present must always be borrowed, are among the needs that have been already mentioned. "Huckleberry Finn" on the senior high school stage will probably be as useful as he is sure to be entertaining.

On Court House Hill

Delinquent taxes in Lawrence county for 1935 amount to $172,226.15 according to statements made out for collectors by County Treasurer, William O. Pitts. This is somewhat below the delinquent tax for 1934, which amounted to $198,025.32 at the time the duplicates were turned over to the collectors.

Delinquent taxes for the City of New Castle, which have been turned over to Edward E. Umbright for collection, amount to $99,460.59. This amount is included in the total amount for 1935 as given above. Delinquencies outside the city of New Castle are turned over to the collectors in the different districts.

The amount of delinquent taxes for 1935 in the various wards of the city is given below. The figures comprise the county, poor and state tax. First ward, $11,515.46; second ward, $31,133.89; third ward, $11,340.27; fourth ward, $16,659.44; fifth ward, $9,774.45; sixth ward, $6,652.27; seventh ward, $5,603.12; eighth ward, $6,781.69.

In Ellwood City the 1935 delinquent tax is as follows: First ward, $4,389.33; second ward, $2,214.26; third ward, $3,271.34; fourth ward, $3,253; fifth ward, $1,117.61.

In other boroughs of the county the delinquent tax is as follows: Ellport, $1,746.33; Enon, $410; Bessemer, $1,184.57; New Wilmington, $819.26; South New Castle borough, $1,212.28; Volant, $437.88; Wampum, $586.90.

Delinquent taxes in townships for 1935 are as follows: Big Beaver, $910.99; Hickory, $1,975.64; Little Beaver, $822.24; Mahoning, $2,933.98; Neshannock, $4,118.82; North Beaver, $3,156.95; Perry, $1,701.27; Plaingrove, $904.97; Pulaski, $2,419.21; Scott, $1,029.75; Slippery Rock, $2,273.75; Shenango, $6,049.34; Taylor, $3,675.61; Union, $13,808.05; Washington, $963.57; Wayne, $3,571.88; Wilmington, $1,803.23.

When it is taken into consideration that the delinquent taxes of $172,226.15 for 1935 are only a small part of the delinquent taxes for other years standing against properties in the city and county, it would appear that it is high time for the tax levying bodies to put into operation economies that will reduce this overwhelming tax burden. There are hundreds of properties on which the taxes are back as far as 1930. There are even some in 1929, but it was not until 1930 that employment began to fall off and people found it impossible to pay their taxes.

It must be remembered that the delinquent taxes given above are only such as are assessed for county, poor and state purposes. The list does not include taxes delinquent in the City of New Castle, borough, township and other taxes. If all the delinquencies in all of the subdivisions of the county were available it would make an appalling total.

These delinquent taxes are largely responsible for the foreclosures by the sheriff every month. Mortgagees in most cases, would be willing to wait for their interest, or even cancel their interest, but taxes are gnawing under their mortgages, thus forcing the foreclosures. The mortgagees then have to pay up all the back taxes in order to protect their properties. Some idea of what this means may be had from the sheriff sales last Monday where the back taxes on some of the properties amounted to almost $1,000.

Delinquent taxes bear interest and penalties. The amount of the delinquencies increase each month. There are many who believe that when taxes become delinquent and six per cent interest is charged on the amount owed, it is akin to usury to charge an additional penalty. The local authorities are not responsible for this condition. It is in accordance with a law passed by some of the so-called "bright minds" sent to Harrisburg. There has been agitation for the repeal of this unjust and usurous law for some time. The last session of the legislature did go so far as to remit interest and penalties up until Nov. 1 of this year to those who paid this year's taxes and who were able to pay a part of their back taxes. To be more specific: Property owners who paid this year's tax and could not pay up back taxes in cash were given five years in which to pay the back taxes, one-fifth each year less penalties.

Many taxpayers took advantage of this law, but hundreds of others, who were out of work, or whose earning capacity had been impaired, could not pay anything. The result is that they have this year's taxes piling up on the years before. The legislature made a mistake in not extending the law remitting interest and penalties until the next session of the legislature. It is probable that something will be done along that line at the next session.

If ever there was any situation deserving of the attention and study of both county and city officials, it is the present delinquent tax situation. If ever there was a time when taxes should be cut to the bone it is the present.

Solomon was right when he said that there is nothing new under the sun. At least there does not appear to be any new way of levying taxes. For years tax levying bodies have figured up how much money they would need to meet the cost of government as they saw it. When the work is completed they call it a "budget." Then the old, old plan is to levy enough taxes to cover this budget. Of late years more than enough to cover the budget has been levied. The tax making bodies have discovered that there will be a lot of delinquent taxes, and so they levy enough on those who will pay to cover the amount owned by those who don't pay. Thus the delinquencies accufulate. If the city and county had the delinquent taxes due it would not be necessary to levy any taxes for a year or two.

But to get back to the "budget." It has been explained that the old plan is to levy enough taxes to cover it. A new plan would be to cut down useless and unnecessary expenditures. There is no question but that the cost of government can be cut down. You don't have to go any further than Union township to find out what can be done by officials who try to run their affairs in the interests of the people instead of politicians

William S. Knudsen, vice president in charge of production, took down the largest annual income with $211,128. This included bonuses aggregating $120,000.

Business Leaders Protest Salary Lists Being Made Public

By GEORGE KENNEDY
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—Business leaders here for the annual convention of the Association of Manufacturers today hastened to protest and condemn SEC publication of corporation salaries.

Foremost among those who voiced disapproval was Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., president of General Motors, whose 1934 salary and bonus payments, totaling $201,743, were made public yesterday. He spoke briefly and to the point:

"We gave the SEC the salary information and requested it be kept confidential. However they saw fit to publish it.

"It's aggravating and exasperating, but that's what we have to contend with.

"In the General Motors annual report to stockholders which, of course, I write, we list a number of salaries merely as 'above $5,000' or 'above $10,000,' together with the total cost of administration. I think that is sufficient. I don't think it necessary to publish just what John Jones got. As this is the first time I've had my salary made public, I don't know yet whether it will have any unfortunate consequences."

Howard Coffin, noted automotive engineer, said he thought publication of salaries was dangerous because it might possibly be used as a political weapon.

James Rand, Jr., president of Remington-Rand Company, preferred to treat the matter facetiously. He said:

"SEC salary lists? You mean the annual guide book to bandits, extortioners and kidnapers?"

Bruce Barton, advertising executive, said, in illustrating public reaction, "my secretary who had read the morning newspapers said, 'no man is worth $200,000 a year.' But she does not know what Mr. Sloan does.

Leonore F. Loree, president of the Delaware and Hudson Railroad said:

"I think it's a snooping sort of business; an effort to raise animosity."

Bear Hunting Is Legal Today

For Next Three Days Hunters Will Be Allowed To Kill Bears

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Dec. 5—Bear became legal prey of property licensed hunters throughout Pennsylvania today—but only for a three day period ending at sun-down Saturday.

Only yearling bears, those over one year old that stand about knee-high to the average man, may be killed during the "short season."

Trailing dogs are also forbidden. Hunters this year must depend upon their own senses in locating bruin. Bear has been protected the last two years, and with the large number of deer hunters that have already been threshing about the state's forests this week, a large kill of the furry animals is not anticipated.

Painters Face Irate Women In Pittsburgh, Pa.

Handle On Paint Bucket Breaks, Women Shoppers Get Coat Of Paint

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 5.—"And, are their faces red today?"

William Fitz and C. Crannan, a couple of painters, were dabbing away with bright red paint on a scaffold high above one of Pittsburgh's busiest corners.

All of a sudden the handle of the paint bucket broke.

Fitz and Crannan slowly descended the ladder for down there, waiting for them, was a crowd of irate women with red paint splashed all over their clothing.

Chicago Woman Is Held As Embezzler

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Dec. 5.—Praphrasing Shakespeare a bit—"What's in a name? A horse by any other name would have been far sweeter."

Credit pretty Mrs. Tina Horwitz, 33-year-old restaurant cashier, with the paraphrase.

Mrs. Horwitz, jailed on her admission that she lost $16,000 of her employer's money betting on horses the past three years, declared today:

"I just bet on horse that had pretty names.

"Nobody ever gave me any tips and I've never seen a race.

"If the horse had a pretty name I bet.

"Sometimes I won. But mostly I lost."

Only Ten Days Left In Rogers Memorial Drive

Campaign For Funds Will Be Brought To Close Here On December 14

Chairman Fred L. Rentz of the Will Rogers memorial campaign reminds citizens of the local community that the period for making contributions to this fund is rapidly drawing to a close. Only 10 more days remain in which subscriptions can be made.

Handicapped children will be the principal beneficiaries of the Will Rogers memorial fund. By handicapped children the memorial commission means those suffering from blindness or other physical disabilities; those who have been victims of illness who can be brought back to partial or complete activity through expert medical attention; those without parents or whose parents lack the money to give them the proper shelter, schooling and home care.

If you wish to help keep the spirit of Will Rogers alive in this work so close to his heart, take or send your subscription to any member of the committee, or bring it or send it to The News Company office. It is the aim of the commission to have millions of Will Rogers' friends participate. It is not the size of the subscription, but the subscription itself that is important.

Dilley Heard By Y. M. C. A. Groups

Young men of New Castle's Y. M. C. A. clubs last night heard Charles A. Dilley, assistant to the president of Fenn college at Cleveland, discuss the problems confronting youth today.

The Clevelander's message, brief but to the point, was delivered before a joint dinner-meeting of all the "Y" groups, their first get-together in months. Chris A. Clark, officer of The Townsmen, presided as chairman. General Secretary R. L. Meermans gave the dinner invocation.

Members of the Key Men's club served the delicious spaghetti feed which Dario M. Baptiste, member of the "Y" staff, prepared.

Two talented New Castle singers, James Bowman and Avery Rigby, sang solos during the program, accompanied at the piano by Miss Ruth Weir. Bowman led the pep singing.

Dilley answered questions following his address.

The grade school is going to present two plays, probably on December 20.

The play, "The Toys That Had To Wait", will be given by members of the first, second and third grades, while the fourth, fifth and sixth grades will give "At Home With Santa Claus".

THE WOMANLESS WEDDING

A hilarious comedy, "Womanless Wedding", is to be presented in the high school auditorium Thursday and Friday evening, December 5 and 6. The cast is composed of prominent citizens of this vicinity.

ACTIVITIES

A meeting of the Boys' Cooking club, whose faculty adviser is Miss Crum, was held in the domestic science room on Monday evening, December 2.

On the same evening, Mr. Capezzuti's Photo club met in the science laboratory.

BOYS' BASKETBALL

The boys' basketball squad started its 1935-36 practice on Monday, November 25. The Thanksgiving holidays broke up the regular routine of practice ,and the next practice was held on Monday, December 2. The following day a cut list appeared, lessening the squad to about 22 players. The first game of the season will be with East Brook high.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

The girls had their first practice on Tuesday, November 26. Only about six members of last year's squad appeared, and approximately a dozen newcomers. Since Thanksgiving vacation, two more practices have been held, and each time the number trying out for the squad has increased. Several Hillsville girls are among the recruits ,and this is the first year for several years that we have had any of them on the girls' squad.

Miss Leacock sees some promising material among the new girls, and with the aid of the veteran players, hopes to produce a successful team.

Grove City Shop Burns Wednesday

(Special To The News)

GROVE CITY, Dec. 5—A loss of $3,500 it was estimated today was caused Wednesday morning by a fire which razed Grove City's only blacksmith shop. The shop is located in an alley behind the business section, and before it could be controlled, adjoining buildings were damaged as the flames threatened to sweep through Broad street.

The shop, owned by S. F. Boyd, was razed, and the contents destroyed, presumably caused by sparks from the forge. A strong wind carried the flames to the Moon Bros. Garage, which was damaged to the extent of about $1500 when rear windows in the three floors were broken, and the roof partially burned. Had the wind been from the west, it is probable that the flames would have swept through the entire business district.

AROUND CITY HALL

Mayor Charles B. Mayne said during the budget meeting yesterday at city hall that as yet he has not been provided with a list of eligible policemen by the civil service board. The city's chief executive stated he had requested the list two weeks ago. Some of the men have told me how they stand on the eligiblity list but a list officially has not been forthcoming, he asserted. The mayor, who by virtues of his office, is the superintendent of police, showed plainly that he does not like the situation as the Christmas holiday season is here and he does not believe he has sufficient police for the particular time. It is probable that should a list be furnished he would arrange for adding four policemen. Should a list not be provided the mayor has the right, with councilmanic confirmation, to put men to work as temporary officers. The examination was held some time ago. More than 62 took the examination. About 43 were successful in the mental test. How many passed the physical test as yet has not been stated. The delay has been due to the failure of the civil service board to meet oftener and hurry the matter along, according to reports.

C. C. McKibben, treasurer-elect for the city and school board, expressed himself as other than pleased when he conferred with the city budgsteers yesterday afternoon. He said the salary set-up for deputies was too low, in his opinion, and the drop from what deputies now receive to the $1,800 and $1,500 salaries to be paid next year, will cut down on the efficiency of his department, which he declared performs some of the most important work in city hall. He charged that work left over from the present administration would cost $500 and he asked that this amount be added to the $4,500 already appropriated for the employment of extra help, such as extra clerks in the treasury office and collectors. He was invited to be present when the council and school board committees meet to settle all city treasury salary and expense moves in the near future.

When council and the officials-to-be adjourned at five p. m. yesterday they were yet $23,500 away from their goal; that is, from a balanced budget. The estimated income at a nine mill rate on an assessed valuation of $50,800,000 would not match the tentative appropriations. Albert Hoyland, finance director, said he believed that it would be possible to find the money.

Hear Work-Study College Explained

Kiwanis Speaker Is C. A. Dilley, Aide To Fenn College President

New Castle Kiwanians, at their weekly luncheon in The Castleton Wednesday, heard Charles A. Dilley, representative of Fenn college in Cleveland, explain the work-study system employed at Fenn and other cooperative colleges which provide what in reality is an educational sandwich" for those who attend them.

Dilley, assistant to President C. U. Thomas, told of the type of education where theory and practice are alternated as he spoke on "Education for a Changing Social Order." He was introduced by Thomas L. Paden of the program committee.

The speaker told the club that the cooperative college will be one which will help to reduce the nation's large army of unemployed college-age young men and women which today totals 3,500,000.

The cooperative plan, it was pointed out by Mr. Dilley, is now 30 years old. Fenn has functioned on that plan for the past ten years.

Among those at Wednesday's luncheon were Adjutant W. B. Fowle of the Salvation Army at Pittsburgh, who spoke in behalf of the local Salvation Army campaign for friends; Dr. Paris A. Shoaff, and Lyle C. Hughes, new Kiwanis members.

The contract, awarded the General Asphalt Paving Company of Canton, O., at $599,792, calls for 4.81 miles of reinforced concrete, 40 and 42 feet wide.

N. S. A. WILL MEET FRIDAY NIGHT

New members who have been signed up in the National Security Association will be inducted Friday evening at the regular meeting of the organization in the Moose hall on South Mercer street. Notices have been sent out to those who are to be inducted and a crowd is expected.

Europe Worries None Over Debts To United States

Another Period For Payment Will Be Passed Over Without Notice

SOME EUROPEANS EXPRESS ATTITUDE

By PIERRE J. HUSS
International News Service
Copyright, 1935, by International News Service

BERLIN, Dec. 5.—While most of the rest of Europe tearfully gave war debts their semi-annual reburial today, German authorities outspokenly said the obligations—of the allies—should be paid, while Poland and Hungary indicated a willingness to reopen the question when economic conditions improve.

Other central European countries, war victors and vanquished alike, not only interred the debts, due again on Dec. 15, but patted the mound with a thud of finality.

Difference Shown

Stressing the difference between war debts and reparations western powers say they cannot pay without collecting from Germany, a prominent German financial figure, who asked to remain unnamed, said:

"The American war debts are just and proper. They originated in actual supplies of food, war implements, and ammunition bought by the allies before 1917 and used against Germany.

"Nobody in his right mind should expect Germany to pay such debts, through paying the allies reparations.

"Strictly speaking, these debts were incurred in regular business transactions between America and certain European countries, and were not imposed, as were reparations, for punishment."

The president of the Hungarian National bank, Dr. Alexander Popovics, speaking in a private capacity, stated: "The international depression prevents Hungary's fulfilling her obligations." He added, however: "International improvements and better economic relations would facilitate the possibility of payments."

Also bringing up the question of a debt revival, a treasury official at Warsaw revealed Poland has already notified the United States she cannot meet the December payments" for the same reason as before.

Future Difficult

"Regarding the future, it is difficult to make any predictions, because the question is closely bound to the world economic situation, which does not appear is going to improve very shortly.

"Whenever economic improvement benefits Poland to such an extent that her paying capacity is augment, then the question of war debts can be reconsidered."

Constantinescu Badulescu, Rumanian financial under-secretary, repeated the argument common to the victors in the war:

"The nations which owe us do not pay, so we are in no position to pay. We regret that our position has not enabled us to liquidate."

High government authorities at Belgrade, Yugoslavia, intimated that "now was no time to dig up the dead past, in the face of the depression, while sanctions against Italy are further strangling our economic life."

The Czechoslovakian government, it was learned, has already instructed its minister to Washington to tell Uncle Sam that "wer'e sorry, but there will be no payment this year."

"War debts have been dead since the Hoover moratorium and the Lausanne protocol (which cut down reparations to ten per cent)," an outstandign Czechosolovakian financier said.

"In any case, Czechosolovakia will continue to follow the example of England. We hear of no intention on England's part to resume payments."

At Vienna it was pointed out that Austria's war debts and reparations had been wiped out forever by the almost total devaluation of her currency and the Hague Agreement of 1930, leaving now only $25,000,000 in American relief credits to be paid between now and 1968.

Labor Unionism Adding Strength In Lewis Battle

Industrial Union Plan Will Be Fought To Last Ditch

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—American Federation of Labor craft unionism today boasted of a united front for the battle with John L. Lewis' plan of industrial union organization as a result of settling the vexing jurisdictional fight that has split the 19 powerful building trades unions for 18 months.

The end of this internal struggle among A. F. of L. craft unions adds 1,250,000 men to the forces of William L. Green, president of the A. F. of L., who is opposing Lewis and a committee of eight labor leaders on the use of industrial labor unions as opposed to the craft plan.

The dispute arose when the A. F. of L. building trades department refused to allow the carpenters, electricians and bricklayers, masons and plasterers, numbering 375,000 to join their department. The controversy figured prominently in the last two labor conventions.

Dispute Ends.

The settlement, Green explained, in adidtion to ending the national dispute over building trades department membership also provides the machinery to see that work goes on while settlements of local jurisdictional fights are being made. In the past, when two closely allied industries have entered a dispute over who should do certain work on a job, tie-ups have resulted.

Under the new plan, the contractor has the right to say which union will do the work, pending final settlement. Then, while the work is going on, the unions appeal to a building trade committee, and if not satisfied there, can use the local federal judge as final arbiter.

The affair will likely attract over 150 of the veterans who have served the Pennsylvania for 20 years or more. All points on the division will be represented.

Father Sheehan Taken By Death

Rev. Father Sheehan, St. Andrews Pastor At Erie, Is Called

(International News Service)

ERIE, Pa., Dec. 5.—The Rev. Father Dennis S. Sheehan, 62, pastor of the St. Andrews church here, died early today, from a heart attack which he suffered a week ago while participating in the rededication of the St. Titus church at Titusville.

Father Sheehan was graduated and ordained at St. Bonaventure College in 1898 and was assigned to the St. Joseph church in Oil City, where he remained for two years. Following this he spent one year at the St. Joseph church at Mt. Jewett and went on to Coudersport where he remained for 12 years. In 1914 he was transferred to Emporium from whence he went to Kane and finally to Erie.

Reverend Sheehan's body will lie in state here until Sunday and then will be removed to Norwalk, Connecticut, for burial.

Justices Flooded By Crank Letters About Hauptmann

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5. — Pleas were rolling in upon the supreme court today in behalf of Bruno Richard Hauptmann, who has appealed to the court for review of his conviction for the kidnaping-murder of the Lindbergh baby.

Fully 50 letters have been received by court officials. Virtually all assert that Hauptmann is innocent.

Most of the "crank" letters find their way into the waste basket. They do not reach justices of the high court who probably will announce next Monday whether or not they will review Hauptmann's case.

three precincts gave West 502, Bassano 608, and Lewis 460. The recount of the first of the fifth added to the two other precincts as they stand, gives West 490, Bassano 408 and Lewis 617. This would seem to indicate that Lewis, instead of Bassano, has been elected alderman of the fifth ward.

As the errors have been so great in the first of the fifth, and it is contended that there are errors in the second, the court will have the ballots in both the other boxes counted.

Sets Hearing Time

As it is now claimed that the correct count of the ballots will show the election of Lewis, and as Bassano claims to have been elected, the court has directed that notice be served upon him to substantiate his claim. Bonds in the sum of $500 each to guarantee the expenses of a recount are required of the contestants. The other two ballot boxes, now impounded in the sheriff's office, will be opened and a re-check made of the ballots. Judge Hildebrand has fixed Monday, December 16, at 9 o'clock as a time for hearing.

Not only was it found that the votes returned by the board for the aldermanic candidates were wrong, but the vote for practically every other candidate on the ticket was in the same class.

Other Incorrect Returns

For instance on the city ticket for mayor, the vote as returned from the first precinct gave McGrath 206 and the recount 230. Original vote for Haufler, 513, recount 468. For council, J. Leon Fink, original, 93, recount, 120; D. O. Daves, original, 203, recount, 246; J. F. McCormck, original 457, recount, 394; J. Myron Rice, original, 454, recount, 388.

For city treasurer, C. C. McKibben, original 333, recount, 354; Joseph W. Hahn, original, 387, recount, 356.

For judge, W. Walter Braham, original, 157, recount, 181; John S. Powers, original, 605, recount, 563. Prothonotary, John Edgar, original, 203, recount, 218; T. R. Castele, original, 509, recount, 482.

In the list of county commissioners the only man who received the same on both the original and the recount, was Franklin R. Woods, who had 37 on both.

Since so many errors have been found in the vote as cast in the first precinct, it will be interesting to know what a recount of the other precincts may disclose.

Ask Certificate Be Held Up

Asking that the certificate of election for Sam Bassano be held up until such time as the pending contest is settled, a petition was filed this afternoon with the Lawrence county court asking that such notification be sent to the Secretary of the Commonwealth.

The returns of the election of November have already been filed with the secretary setting forth the fact that Sam Bassano was elected alderman of the Fifth ward. The present incumbent Richard R. Lewis challenges the accuracy of the election returns and has filed a contest. Through his attorneys Lewis also files the second petition.

THREE DAYS OF PRAYER TO OPEN

Triduum At St. Vitus To Lead To Feast Of Immaculate Conception

Solemn triduum in preparation for the closing of the Novena of St. Anthony is being opened tonight in St. Vitus church, according to announcement from the pastor, Rev. Fr. N. DeMita, and will be in progress Friday and Saturday nights.

These prayer services will be conducted at 7:30 o'clock each of the three evenings and will be climaxed on Sunday with the Feast of the Immaculate Conception, thus bringing to a close the Novena of St. Anthony which has been observed each Tuesday for the past nine weeks.

A distinguished speaker at these services and at Sunday's masses is to be Father Sebastian, well known missionary father, of St. Michael's Pittsburgh, one of the Passionists fathers.

The shrine has been beautifully prepared. Because of lack of space there will be no children admitted at the evening services. One side of the church has been especially reserved for young ladies of the parish and it will be in their honor that a part of the services have been planned. Father Sebastian hopes to bring many new members into the sodality of young ladies, the Children of Mary.

Nine Held In Oklahoma For Murder Probe

Two Of Prisoners Charged With Murder At Tulsa

(International News Service)

TULSA, Okla., Dec. 5.—Nine persons were held in the county jail here today, two of them charged with the murders of Louis Pappan, federal revenue agent, and George Stewart, widely-known private detective, who were shot and killed outside the Sheridan club, swanky Tulsa gambling casino.

Tyree Parks, parking concession manager for the club, and George McCullough, club caterer, were held on first degree murder charges.

Roy Staley, club operator; A. C. Vandeventer and Ned Vandeventer, brothers and part owners of the establishment; James Birkhead, Marvin Overstreet and two other employes of the casino were held pending investigation.

Case Is Sensation

It was announced that John F. Burkett, Kansas City internal revenue officer, was enroute here to aid in the federal inquiry into the slayings.

The case, already a sensation here, was increased in tension today when Harry Deweese, a former Sheridan club "bouncer," turned over to Anderson his signed statement alleging "collusion between the club managers and the sheriff's office."

Farley To Allow Utility Companies Right Of Mailing

All Unregistered Companies Will Be Allowed Use Of Mails

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—Postmaster General Farley today announced he will allow public utilities companies which have not registered with the S E C under the provisions of the Holding Company Act to use the mails pending a decision by the supreme court on the validity of the law.

Farley said:

"Whatever may be the authority, if any, of the postmaster general to exclude from the mail matter sent in violation of the act, the postmaster general does not intend to exclude any company from using the mail, at least not before the validity of the act is judicially determined by the supreme court.

Asks Rescinding Of Approval For Ohio-Lake Canal

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 5.—Because local river facilities and industry are not equipped to handle excess tonnage that would result from construction of the proposed Lake Erie-Ohio river canal, the general traffic committee of the Pittsburgh chamber of commerce has recommended that the chamber rescind its former resolution favoring construction of the waterway.

A. R. Kennedy, committee associate to W. F. Morris, chairman of the traffic commission, thus explained to International News Service today the reason for its recommendation that the chamber of commerce withdraw a previous endorsement of the project. The suggestion is expected to be acted upon at a meeting of the chamber's board of directors this month.

Relief Workers To Be Removed To New Quarters

Formal approval of the removal of the Lawrence County Emergency Relief workers from the present quarters on South Mill street to the Wallace Block is expected within a day or two by director James W. Moorehead of the relief board.

When the transfer is made it will affect only the workers of the Lawrence county board. The area offices will stay in the present quarters. This will mean about 40 investigators supervisors and other employes. The room vacated by them will be utilized by the Works Progress Administration which is hampered for room at the present time.

The area offices which includes area supervisors, financial department and others will remain in the present quarters.

Local Girl Shoots Buck Wednesday

Reports are coming in from hunters, of the big game they have brought down since the opening of the hunting season, but this is the first report turned in about a local young woman who has been equally as successful.

She is Miss Armanda Hoover, of 1114 Croton avenue, and she shot an eight point buck while with a hunting party at Sinnemahoning on Wednesday. Others in the party included her father, James H. Hoover and Miss Mary Wilkins also of Croton avenue.

The buck she killed is known as a one of the freak variety, having odd shaped antlers.

Says Home Loan Payments Here Are Satisfactory

Over 1100 Loans Made In Lawrence County Reports C. P. Cloak

Payments on home loan mortgages are showing a healthy increase, according to C. P. Cloak, manager of the Home Owners Loan corporation here. With over 1100 loans closed and operative the payments are being made satisfactorily and out of all the loans, but one is in default.

The loan in default and which will be sold in January is one in which the mortgagor died some time after making the loan. Heirs decided they did not want the property and have made no payments on it. The government will probably bid to the extent of its equity in the property and any one bidding over that will get it.

In a statement received from Washington by Mr. Cloak it is said that over half of the foreclosures are made in cases where the borrowers have deliberately refused to make any effort to pay off their indebtedness. The total of home owners loans at the present time is just short of $3,000,000,000, while in Lawrence county the total is slightly in excess of $3,000,000.

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—In response to a number of requests, I am listing the various shows now on view in New York, with a word or two of comment on each. Of course, some of these may expire before the list meets your gaze and new and better ones may be on the boards, but I shall try to repeat from time to time and keep the chart as nearly up to press time as possible.

Abide With Me; by the blue-blooded Clare Booth Brokaw; gloomy and rather feeble stuff about a crazy drunkard.

At Home Abroad; with Herb Williams, Eleanor Powell, starring Beatrice Lillie; the best musical of the season, merry, colorful and memorable. At the Winter Garden.

Blind Alley; thrilling melodrama full of shots and psychology; A-1 hokum and entertainment.

Boy Meets Girl; a farce about Hollywood, without the bitterness of Once in a Lifetime—many laughs and a few howls.

A Touch of Brimstone; if you like Roland Young here's a maybe. Concerns a ranting egocentric.

Dead End; by Sidney Kingsley; realistic melodrama involving slum children, with the most convincing set in stage history and the most lifelike child actors. A must for visitors.

First Lady; with Jane Cowl; fairly penetrating satire on Washington hostesses; women may like it.

Jubilee; a howling hit which enthralls the tail-coat crowd; with Mary Boland. Maybe you'll be as wild as the critics and Park Avenue; I found it a wee bit stuffy.

Let Freedom Ring; heart-warming stuff for pinks, parlors and otherwise; one of those Plays With a Message.

Moon Over Mulberry Street; survived bad notices, but for once I fear the dimwit drama boys were right.

Mulatto; by Langston Hughes. Visitors from below the Mason & Dixon Line had better compromise and see "At Home Abroad."

Night of January 16; entertaining courtroom drama, with a jury picked from the audience.

One Good Year; a farce that in spots is chuckly. Unfortunately there aren't many spots.

On Stage; would be worth seeing if only for the fact that it contains Osgood Perkins.

Parnell; an historical drama of the love life of the great Irish patriot of the last century. Haunting and often thrilling. Recommended.

Personal Appearance; the marathon hit. A flicker star hilariously on tour. See it.

Porgy and Bess; George Gershwin's darkling operetta of Catfish Row. A grand show full of genuine music. A must.

Pride and Prejudice; Jane Austen's novel cleverly and tenderly staged. Lucille Watson is in it.

Remember the Day; a very fine play about childhood. It takes you back.

Squaring the Circle; Stalin with the giggles. The funniest thing about it is that it's still running.

The Children's Hour; last season's dramatic hit. About matters not usually discussed in the parlor, but it should not shock you and probably will thrill you. Leave the children home. Contains the most hateful moppet ever portrayed on the stage.

There's Wisdom in Women; a musical genius and his love life. I liked this pleasant comedy which Walter Pidgeon acts superbly as usual.

The Ragged Edge; keep your distance.

The Taming of the Shrew; Shakespeare, streamlined, with the Lunts. a must.

Winterset; purple prose and blank verse under the Brooklyn Bridge, full of sociological sermonizing. The critics went for this one hook line and sinker and the flossy set have made it a hit because they think it is the tony thing to see. In my opinion the most overpraised play in seven years.

Court Functions Are Suspended By Italian Royalty

King And Queen Of Italy Will Give Wedding Ring To Gold Fund

(International News Service)

ROME, Dec. 5.—The government ordered the frills taken out of Italy's social life and the king and queen tossed their wedding rings into the nation's melting pot of gold in new moves calculated to aid the country in its fight against the economic sanctions being applied by the league of nations.

It was announced officially that all court receptions will be suspended because of sanctions, the government thus imposing a wartime economy measure striking at costly but unnecessary social functions.

At the same time it was announced Queen Helena had sent her wedding ring to Premier Mussolini to be placed in the national gold fund, a collection of rings and jewelry from men and men throughout the land, donated to aid Italy in her economic battle against the world.

Five Cities Will Seek Convention Declares Farley

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—Expressing the belief that the site of the forthcoming Democratic national convention will make no difference politically, Postmaster General Farley today declared that bids probably will be received from five cities.

They include Philadelphia, Chicago, Kansas City, St. Louis and San Francisco.

The final choice, Farley said, rests with the Democratic national committee which will meet in Washington January 7 of 8.

Farley believes that San Francisco will bid for the convention "if they think they can get it".

He added that Philadelphia and Chicago have adequate facilities, but emphasized that no definite location has yet been determined.

"I don't care where we go," he said. "Politically it doesn't make any difference."

Yes, there are chislers on relief rolls, but only the people who were professional chiselers before relief began.

MORE THAN FIFTY MILLION AUTOMOBILES have been produced in America. But not one ever before did what these cars have just accomplished. Tells Of Work Done By Salvation Army

Captain George Bevan, of the Salvation Army, here has submitted the following statement concerning the army's activities, in response to a request from the general chairman of the campaign being opened to secure operation expenses for the coming year:

"A great deal is still heard about the Salvation Army's activities during the World War, but their workers are always on the job in peacetimes as well as war, and it is known around the world as the greatest evangelistic and character building force in existence today.

"Although during these distressing times the government has taken over the major portion of relief work, the Army finds plenty of useful work to do, that is a real stimulus to the social uplift to the community in which it works. The re-uniting of broken homes, evangelizing the streets, giving religious instruction to the neglected, and through their Rescue Homes, the befriending of fallen girls, finding missing friends, the distributions of castoff clothing and shoes, kindergarten, junior and intermediate classes instructed in needle-work, music, domestic science and religion. The discouraged, broken hearted, bereft and neglected, "the down and out," and the better classes of society, beat a path to its doors continually and confide secrets to its trusted workers, feeling that their confidence will not be betrayed. The Army is often called "The Army of the Helping Hand" and "The Friend of the Friendless."

"A prominent citizen said: 'To anyone who has followed the work of the Salvation Army, or who has observed its type of service in any community, such a question as 'Why back the Salvation Army?' seems absurd.'

"To me, the Salvation Army, when its corps is manned by the right type of people, comes nearer to carrying out these principles instituted by our Saviour than any other organization. In the scheme of things in this country, perhaps any country, it is essential that some group in each community be humble enough to carry Christ's teachings to the lowly. I believe that no other institution is able to do this in the same effective way as the Salvation Army. I have a strong belief that a practical administration of Christ's teachings is best. The story of Christ's life is one of service to others, particularly to the lowly.

"Those of us who have observed the work of the Salvation Army and particularly if we have been privileged to be closely connected with that work, or fortunate enough to have a part in it, know that the Army is doing just that, and is doing a splendid job of it.

"Through the last unfortunate years when its services have been most needed, these servants of Christ have never faltered because their financial support was weakened. Like the Nazarene, they have carried on in spite of the great odds against them.

"Salvation Army workers are men and women who are not only inspired to do Christ's religious work, but have an administrative ability and a zeal to do real practical Christian service, that of helping our fellowmen unselfishly. To translate the heart throb of Salvation Army service into relief, one needs to but know of only a few typical cases. Only recently there came to the office a young girl from another city. She was described as beautiful, educated, generally refined. She sought refuge from the gaze of friends and to hide from her mother the shame of a mis-step. "Routine" say Army Officers; "Just one among thousands that come to us throughout the country." With motherly care the Salvation Army matron counselled and assisted the girl and she was restored to her parents and to society with another chance to make good. Her infant was adopted into a home acceptable to the state authorities, and the Salvation Army guards her secret.

"Can anyone tell of a service more commendable than that which saves a woman's reputation, or gives a child a decent name and a chance to live?

"Such is the Army of the 'Helping Hand' made possible through the success of the financial campaign. It we can continue to help wherever we are needed, we shall be satisfied ....that is all we ask.

"We have faith to believe that the people of New Castle will provide the way for us to continue serving the unfortunate and to encourage and help them with their problem.

"The Salvation Army has long been active in welfare program, and this burden has not decreased to a great extent despite Federal and State relief activities. It never turns a deaf ear to a worthy cause, whether it is a plea for a night's lodging, food, clothing or medical aid or perhaps in obtaining employment.

"If you are interested in the welfare of your less fortunate neighbor, contribute to the Salvation Army, Treasurer, J. D. Kennedy, The Peoples Bank, of New Castle, and your subscription will be promptly acknowledged."

State Costs Are Injuring Nation

Association Of Manufacturers Points Out Defects In New Deal Plan

STATES MUST SOLVE PROBLEM

Central Press
Washington Bureau
1900 S street

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—The National Association of Manufacturers is so vehemently anti-New Dealerish that perhaps its recently broadcast 14-point recovery program, strongly implying adverse criticism of practically all New Deal policies, should be taken with a bit of salt.

Nevertheless, it is hard to dispute the justice of the association's complaint that federal expenditures for purely intra-state purposes is bad business.

If each of the 48 states is on the financial rocks, it is obvious that each must get off the rocks by itself. There is no sense in appeal by a stranded state to other stranded states for assistance. Of the others each has troubles enough of its own without being required to lend aid elsewhere.

COLLECTIVE AID SOUGHT

Yet again and again I have seen and heard a state's senators and representatives get up in congress and proclaim, in effect, "OUR state is at the end of its resources; it must have a federal appropriation"—that is to say, the other 47 states must make a joint contribution to the relief of the 48th state's embarrassment.

Time was when the other states' spokesmen inclined to answer, "Well, hoe your own row; we have as much trouble making ends meet as you do."

This is the rule no longer.

Today it is accepted logic that what 48 states can't do individually they can do collectively—as if 48 men with 50 cents each can raise $48 if levied on in a body, but not if they are levied on separately.

* * *

A "GYP" GAME?

Of course representatives of the respective states know better than this.

They are not trying to accomplish the arithmetically impossible; they are trying to gyp one another.

Each of the 48 states, in demanding federal help, hopes to get it from the remaining 47, but relies upon some hokus-pokus to avoid making its own contribution into the common "kitty".

It works out about 50-50 per capita.

The would-be gyppers gyp and are correspondingly gypped all the way around the 48-point circle.

Little states like Nevada, with 90,000 population, may not seem to be getting as much out of the federal "kitty" as big states, such as New York, with a citizenry exceeding 12,500,000, but the little states get as much, or maybe more, in proportion—per inhabitant.

SYSTEM IS UNECONOMIC

Oh, the would-be gyppers, striving competitively, get approximately an "even break" all right.

The system is'nt particularly unfair; it's economic.

An individual state may have an interest in keeping its local tax rate within reason, but it doesn't consider itself responsible for federal taxation. While doing its best to keep its own state budget balanced, it very frequently throws its influence toward unbalancing the federal budget—which it proposes to leave the other 47 states to worry about.

FRUGAL STATES PENALIZED

It is a system with an additional economic weakness.

Suppose a community, statewide or smaller, really desires to live frugally.

Within itself it can do so. Nevertheless, it must contribute, through larger-scale taxation, to the support of less thrifty communities, and, at the same time, it will get none of the largess from higher-up levies.

NO ENCOURAGEMENT

Illustratively:

If a state will vote so-and-so much for certain local developments, the federal government will match that allowance with a 50-50 one of its own.

Assume that a single state decides it cannot afford such expenditures, and declines Uncle Sam's offer. Still, it will have to stand the federal government's levy to match those of the other 47 states, but as to its own development—it won't get any.

This certainly is not much of an encouragement toward local economy.

IT'S A LOCAL ISSUE

Local taxation? How much does it amount to? In comparison with federal taxation?

The National Association of Manufacturers estimates that there are 175,000 tax-levying bodies in the United States.

Uncle Sam's is one.

There are 174,999 others.

If each of these 174,999 can't afford to economize, or it will be more or less directly penalized by federal taxation, it must make quite a difference.

File Sufferers

Can You Answer These Questions?

Do you know why external remedies so seldom give quick and permanent relief?

Why cutting does not remove the cause?

Do you know the cause of Piles is internal?

That there is congestion of blood in the lower bowel—the veins flabby, the parts lifeless?

Do you know that there is a harmless internal remedy for itching, bleeding or protruding piles discovered by Dr. J. S. Leonhardt known as HEM-ROID that is guaranteed?

HEM-ROID banishes piles by removing the cause. It stimulates the circulation in the lower bowel—drives out the thick impure blood and restores the affected parts.

HEM-ROID is so successful in even the most stubborn cases that Eckerd's Cut Rate and New Castle Drug Co., and all good druggists advise every sufferer to get a bottle of HEM-ROID Tablets today — take them as directed—then if not completely satisfied with results—your money back.

APPROVE ADULT EDUCATION STATE PROJECTS

Expect 9,000 Will Get Employment

About $8,000,000 Is Provided To Carry On State-Wide Work

RECREATIONAL WORK IS ALSO INCLUDED

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Dec. 5.—Two state-wide projects to be carried out under the Adult Education Division of the Works Progress Administration have been approved and will be launched within 10 days, Administrator Edward N. Jones, announced today.

The projects, estimated to cost more than $8,000,000 in employing approximately 9,000 persons, will make up the entire program to be directed by the Adult Education Division. Under the program, it is expected to bring recreational and educational opportunities to more than a million Pennsylvania residents.

The expenditure is divided into $5,528,547 for adult education and $2,476,144 for recreation. About 80 per cent of these funds will be paid in salaries out of federal grants of $5,030,710 for the education project and $2,204,496 for the recreational project.

To Employ 6,000

Local public school authorities in every county of the state are cooperating in the education project, sponsored by the State Department of Public Instruction. It will employ 6,000 instructors, supervisors and assistants to direct workers' education, vocational training, general adult and parents education, and nursery schools. In the program the WPA, Jones said, will work through local school boards, civic centers, community and social service groups. Schools will be established in all counties.

The recreational project was set up to provide employment for 2,800 persons in creating recreational activities for more than 750,000 residents of the state. It is also being sponsored by the State Department of Public Instruction, and the Emergency Educational Council is cooperating in its promotion.

Teachers and recreational leaders will be provided for CCC and transient camps, with the help of the National Youth Administration, under the project.

Congressman Says Constitutional Amendment Needed To Achieve Aims

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—Backers of the 30-hour week were warned today by a labor champion in congress, Rep. Crosser (D) of Ohio, that a constitutional amendment is necessary to achieve their aims.

The warning came as many labor groups and members of congress began developing plans for a legislative battle for the 30-hour week next year.

Crosser proposes to seek a hearing by the house judiciary committee on a constitutional amendment which would permit congress to regulate the hours of labor.

WHY WIVES NAG!

Don't blame wives and mothers who get cross and irritable, worn out and exhausted trying to do everyday housework, look after children and manage the home when they don't feel right. Often a woman neglects her health, ruins her nerves and becomes impatient with everyone and everybody—and doesn't realize it. Science, however, now claims that it is GLANDS STARVING FOR IODINE that is the real cause of these rundown, nervous, irritable conditions—glands which control assimilation and metabolism and which, when they fail to work, prevent normal everyday food from building rich, red, nourishing blood, calm, strong nerves and the strength and energy women so badly need.

In Kelpamalt, the new mineral concentrate from the sea, however, a way has been found to provide the regular ration of NATURAL PLANT IODINE needed to keep glands in perfect health. Kelpamalt contains 1300 times more iodine than oysters, hitherto considered the best source, as well as 12 other precious body minerals which aid appetite, digestion and help to prevent the ordinary disorders which prove so annoying and often dangerous.

Try this amazing new mineral concentrate for one week. Notice how much better you feel, how well you sleep, how your appetite improves. Notice how worn out, exhausted nerves quickly calm and grow strong. Over 4,000,000 people annually take Kelpamalt. Costs but little to use. Be sure to get the original Seedol Kelpamalt Tablets

Yule Tree Theft Will Bring Fine

State Law Provides Penalty For Cutting Trees On Private Land

HARRISBURG, Dec. 5.—With the Christmas harvest only three weeks away, Secretary Thomas C. Buchanan of the Department of Forests and Waters today issued a warning against the cutting and removing of evergreen trees and Christmas greens from privately owned property without consent of the owner.

Secretary Buchanan pointed out that under the Act of May 4, 1927 there is a fine of $25 imposed upon anyone found guilty of destroying or removing a tree or shrub from private property.

He urged land-owners to take precautions against this annual invasion of their evergreen groves, and to take steps to end this unlawful practice.

Reports are received annually by the Department of Forests and Waters that beautiful specimens of evergreens have been stolen or multilated, and in many cases entire ornamental spruces have been stolen from city property.

The largest annual loss from this practice is caused by the person or persons who conduct their "raids" at night and carry the trees away by the truck load.

Half of the fine collected in prosecutions is turned over to the person providing the information and Secretary Buchanan asks everyone to aid in putting a stop to this practice, which is not only unlawful, but also causes the mutilation of many fine timber stands.

HIS DESCENT

They were discussing a mutual friend.

"Jackson told me something I never knew before," said Briggs. "He declares that his grandfather used to tell him that he had descended from one of the greatest houses in England.

His companion smiled knowingly.

"Yes," he replied. "I did hear the story about the old man falling off a roof he was repairing for Lord Some-body-or-other."

To End Annoying Cough, Mix This Recipe, at Home

Big Saving! No Cooking! So Easy!

Here is the famous old recipe which millions of housewives have found to be the most dependable means of breaking up winter coughs. It takes but a moment to prepare, and costs very little, but it positively has no equal for quick, lasting relief.

From any druggist, get 2½ ounces of Pinex. Pour this into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with granulated sugar syrup, made with 2 cups of sugar and one cup of water, stirred a few moments until dissolved. No cooking needed—it's so easy! Thus you make a full pint of better remedy than you could buy ready-made, and you get four times as much for your money. It never spoils and tastes fine.

This home mixture soothes the irritated throat membranes with surprising ease. It loosens the phlegm and eases the soreness in a way that is really astonishing.

Pinex is a concentrated compound of Norway Pine, famous for its effect in stopping coughs quickly. Money refunded if it doesn't please you in every way.

FOR YOUR CAR'S SAKE—

And your pocketbook's—let us check your oil twice as often these cold days! Winter weather means cold starting—you flood your engine with raw gas—and this raw fuel trickles into your crankcase and dilutes your oil!

Play safe! Let us change your oil now.

BEAVER FALLS, Dec. 5.—Announcements are made for the formal opening of the French Club of Geneva college on Friday evening, Dec. 6, at eight o'clock in the college auditorium. This annual affair, an outstanding social function at the college, with a highly entertaining program, followed by a formal reception, is under the direction of Miss Isabella Stewart, head of the modern foreign language department at Geneva and faculty advisor of the club.

Correct this sentence: "This must be the truth," said the earnest citizen, "for it's an official statement from Washington."

By VICTOR J. JACOBS
International News Service Sports Writer

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 5.—Scholastic stars from seven western Pennsylvania high schools were awarded places on an all-W. P. I. A. L. football team picked today by William C. Evans, president of the league, for International News Service.

Scott high school of North Braddock, winner of the circuit's Class AA title which completed three full seasons without defeat, placed three players on the first team. Jeanette and Monesson each won two places and the other schools, namely Vandergrift, Latrobe, McKees Rocks and Mt. Lebanon, one apiece.

Picks Two Teams

A second team selected by Evans was also widely representative, including gridders from Greensburg, Charleroi, New Castle, Brownsville, Washington and other points.

The players were chosen for their particular adeptness at the position to which they were named as well as their general all-around play and sportsmanlike conduct during the past season.

The Western Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic League, District No. 7 of the P. I. A. A., comprises schools in Westmoreland, Fayette, Washington, Allegheny and Lawrence counties.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

It is apparent that boxing promoters of New York are trying to build up Jock McAvoy, the best British boxer to cross the Atlantic since Ted Kid Lewis came to the United States. Should he make a good fight with Babe Risko, the U. S. middleweight champion in a non-titular scrap, he will receive a second chance with the championship at stake. If Jock gets away with the Syracusan, the British middleweight king who also fights as a light-heavyweight champion, will receive a "shot" at John Henry Lewis, the light-heavyweight champion.

Alfred Ponzi of Philadelphia has decided not to defend his world's pocket billiard championship in the title tournament which will get under way next week at Philadelphia.

Danowski of the New York Giants professional football team during the season practically ended, threw 53 completed aerials of 103 which were good for 717 yards.

Knute Rockne, Jr., 140 pounds, who has played a good game as quarterback at Miami Military academy, will enter Notre Dame next fall, according to reports from New York.

Strangler Lewis, seven time holder of the world's heavyweight wrestling crown, will meet Sandor Szabo, Hungarian star, in the main wrestling bout at Pittsburgh tonight.

Laurell Out Again After Odd Accident

Victim of one of the oddest accidents on a local gymnasium floor, Lauri Laurell, East Washington St. has returned to his teller's post at the First National Bank of Lawrence County after being confined to his home for a week by the injury.

Laurell was the basketball player who had a sharp tooth of an opposing player imbedded deep in his right arm when his arm accidentally crashed into the other player's mouth during a game at the Y. M. C. A. recently.

A surgeon removed the tooth a short time after the accident, but infection set in later. For a week Laurell has been nursing the injured arm at home. It is now responding to treatment.

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 5.—Mike Basrak, junior center, will captain Duquesne University's Night Riders in the 1936 football season.

Strong Lineup

In the opening games last week the St. Michaels, champions of the 1934-35 season won their opening game from the Epworth M. E. team, with "Shimmy" Balla and Chernyavsky the big stars of the game, and with Pastirik, a newcomer looking very impressive in the lineup, as did Johnnie Carik, New Castle High star.

There is going to be a merry fight for the championship this year with the Sacred Hearts and Central Christians having strong teams and rarin' to tangle with the St. Mikes. The First Baptists must also be reckoned with this year, with Nickie Ross and Jack Lewellyn in the lineup. The Central Christians have Earl Bauman, former Alamaba University star and Bill Wallace and Freddy McClure in the lineup.

Titans Ready For First Game

Open Season Saturday Night In Contest With Wooster

SEVERAL VETERANS WILL BE MISSING

NEW WILMINGTON, Dec. 25—Coach John Lawther's Titans from Westminster will open their 1935-36 season Saturday night against Wooster college.

The Ohio team is making its first appearance on the Westminster court, taking the place of Wittenberg, the first team to be defeated by the Titans last year. Coach Hole of the Wooster quintet suffered a bad season during 1934-35 with 4 wins to 12 losses, but with most of his squad back, expects to rank high in the Ohio conference.

For the initial game, Coach Lawther will have five varsity men from last year: Wes Bennett, high scoring center; "Swede" Hunneke, paw shooting guard; Paul Backus, six foot four center; Jack Willits, a forward and John Krivosh, 200 pound guard. Only Bennett and Hunneke were first-string men on last year's squad.

Lawther will find it hard to offset the loss of Wilhelm, fast charging guard and Leyshock and Sweeney, consistently high scorers during the past season.

Several promising freshmen have shown up well during the past few weeks. Ray Bellingham, 6 feet 8 center; Kenneth Grubb, transfer from Ohio State, guard; Wendell Stevenson, lanky blonde center from Farrell; and Mike Pawk, a six foot three forward, from Butler.

Of the 26 games to be played by the Titans this year, only 9 will be played on the home court.

Grove City will support a varsity basketball team, and intra-mural competition in basketball, handball, waterpolo, volleyball and swimming. Life-saving will also be featured in the swimming instruction.

The heaviest enrollment is for basketball, which has a varsity squad of 20 players, and 80 boys enrolled in class squads which are coached by "Bill" Amos, varsity football coach. Volleyball enrolled 32 players, handball, swimming and water polo, 16 in each sport.

Grove City's intra-mural teams will engage the varsity squads of Fenn College, Slippery Rock, Thiel and Allegheny, in home-and-home contests in swimming, volley ball, handball and basketball. The local team will be selected from the stars of the class squads, and will not have the benefit of special coaching.

Coach Bridenbaugh Has Great Record For Past 14 Years

After a man has been on the job 14 years it seems fair enough to take a look at his record and see if there has been any mistake about his being there that long. That applies to superintendents, bankers, bartenders or dog house designers.

It also applies to football coaches. After coaching one team for fourteen years either the coach has compiled a record that means something or the fans have been asleep. In the case of New Castle fans there has been no sleeping, so it must be that the coach has done a job.

Philip H. Bridenbaugh came to New Castle High School for the season of 1922. Prior to that he had been coach at Geneva College but decided that high school coaching offered a better field for him.

New Castle was playing its usual game. A win once in a while and then a few losses, an in and out team that had some of the sportsmen tearing what hair they had left for New Castle always had the material. The fault lay in the coaching.

High Average

Bridenbaugh took the team over and in his first season the team won eight, tied one and lost none. For three seasons the team had an unbroken record insofar as losses were concerned and the totals for the fourteen years Bridenbaugh has been coaching shows 122 victories, 10 ties and 13 losses, or a percentage of .841.

In the 145 regular season games the team has played, New Castle has scored 3579 points against 474 for the all opponents. In 1927 New Castle 452 points, which is within 22 of all the points scored by the opposition in fourteen years.

Of the 13 games that have been lost, 9 of them came in two years, 3 in 1929 and 6 in 1931. Six of the years New Castle was not defeated and in each of four years lost but one game in the season.

Looking back over the record one conjures up a lot of pictures of strenuous going. The game in Harrisburg against Harrisburg Tech in 1934, the one against Jeanette in the same year which was finally won by New Castle on a protest, the 6-2 licking Schenley gave New Castle in the mud in 1926, that 13-13 tie with Turtle Creek in 1923 in Pittsburgh or the championship win over Charleroi in Pittsburgh in 1924 10-6, Day to Hill. The games with Youngstown South, always tough, or that mud game in 1925 against Sharon which New Castle won 6-0. And of course that game that Ellwood City won 14-0 in 1925 in Ellwood City.

And some of the players that have passed through the rosters of New Castle teams. Day, Ward, Fox, Van Brocklin, Harper, Uram, Reider, Cunningham, Sargent, Kominic, Decarbo, Ciccone, Richards, the Shelloggs, Hanlon, Robinson, Dufford, these and a long list of other lummaries that carried the name of New Castle High School to fame over the fourteen years.

Perhaps you might like to refresh your memory as to what the scores were in the past fourteen years. If you do, here they are:—

Maxie Schmeling Would Like To Meet Braddock Or Louis

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 5— Along Broadway today we find Max Schmeling....former heavyweight champion of the world—with Joe (Yussle the Muscle) Jacobs at his heels....like a Dashund trailing a Great Dane....

Max is here to arrange a title fight with Jim Braddock....and incidentally to take a gander at Joe Louis in action....The boxing commission will inform Max he has the same chance to get a shot at Braddock without first hurdling Louis as Primo Carnera has of becoming an adagio dancer in an opera ballet....

Little Joey is trying to convince Max that Louis would be a soft touch....a vital argument for Joey ....who is plenty in the red....and if Max won't fight, how is Mrs. Jacobs' little boy to get out of the red?

And speaking of dough, the current six-day grind is outdrawing last year's money-maker....reminds me Fred Hawthorne has been covering these sleep producers for 33 years ....which is almost as long as Pop Brennan has been repairing their bikes at trackside.

Alf Goellet, once the ace perdaler of them all, is now peddling beer ....and Piggy Moran, another old bike favorite, is getting rich by simple process of not raising pigs for the government.....

Lou Ambers and Frankie Klick are slated to trade leather Jan. 3 ....with the winner promised another shot at Tony Canzoneri's lightweight crown....both failed in previous attempts to lift it.

Southern Teams Take Up Passing

Southern Methodist Will Feature Passing Game On Coast

Short Passes Used Quite Effectively By Southern Elevens

By DAVID J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—"They don't run with the ball; they throw it."

I think I can detect a note of condescension among eastern coaches in this composite explanation, made in my hearing, as to what happens when football is played in the southwest, notably by Southern Methodist and Texas Christian, the pair that have come to national notice as guest-teams at the Rose and Sugar Bowl games respectively. I suspect that the east, always very broadminded about dismissing things that might be good for it, feels that passing the ball, instead of running with it, is something of a little disgraceful, like a defaulter in the family or too much hair on the back of the neck.

"They pass for five yards," is the comment, a little contemptuously.

Battle For Five Inches

But I've seen eastern teams desperately for five inches—and not getting them. They still look on the pass as an expedient, not a weapon. They almost never pass on first down and it has always been my idea that that's what the pass is for—a long gainer, thrown in so many different situations that the defense, always looking for it, never quite knows when to be fully prepared.

As for the short pass, it has gone out of vogue up here because defending linesmen are coached to fan out laterally and protect zones every time they see an opposing back fade with the ball. I'm a long way from Fort Worth and Dallas, but somehow I can't see those Southwest backs fading to make a short pass. I suspect that they pass practically from a running formation and sometimes virtually from position, a quick flip of the ball to a man who has barely started downfield—and with the normal 6-2-2-1 defense—cannot be adequately covered.

Wilson Is Star

Besides, I'm not impressed with the general notion that Southern Methodist is just a ball throwing team. It may have been in some of those comparatively weak years, notably in 1930 when one of Morrison's weakest went to South Bend and came very close to passing one of Rockne's greatest into defeat. But that, I imagine, was just compromise use of innate talent, calculated to cover up an inherent lack of power. And I know a lot of eastern teams that could afford to do that, too.

As a matter of fact, I think we might as well admit that maybe they've come a whole lot further with a football in ten years down there than we have in fifty up here. Southern Methodist, if memory is correct, wasn't pass-crazy in the U. C. L. A. game on the coast this year. It shouldn't have to be with a runner like Wilson, a runner and blocker like Shuford and those tackles and running guards they're supposed to have.

Three-Way Deal Is Brewing In Chicago Sector

White Sox, Tigers And Browns Involved In Big Three-Cornered Deal

FOXX MAY PLAY WITH WHITE SOX

By BILL COLLINS
International News Service Sports Writer

CHICAGO, Dec. 5.—White Sox officials denied today that a three-way deal had been consummated involving Outfielder Al Simmons, First Baseman Jimmy Foxx, the Detroit, St. Louis and Chicago clubs, some $100,000 in cash, and several ball players.

But the denials were more emphatic than convincing, at least as far as Simmons is concerned.

The latest deal would send Simmons, who busted fences for the Philadelphia Athletics for years but has been a bust with the White Sox, to Detroit for $25,000 cash and Outfielder Gerald Walker and Infielder Gilbert English.

May Also Get West

Fovv would be obtained from the Athletics for $75,000 cash.

And Walker and a pitcher would be passed along to Rogers Hornsby for Sam West, veteran outfielder.

Well—the Chicago team needs an outfielder, needs infielders, needs hitting, doesn't need Simmons and his primma donnaing and huge salary and picayune batting average, and Mickey Cochrane wants Simmons and Connie Mack wants cash and Rogers Hornsby never came out on the short end of a trade yet.

International News Service was reliably informed yesterday that the Simmons deal will be announced at the major league meeting here a few days hence. And rumors persist that a $75,000 check signed by J. Louis Comiskey, Sox Prexie, has been endorsed by Connie Mack.

Towering Titans To Live Up To Record

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Dec. 5.—The "Towering Titans" of Westminster college will "tower" this year, with a squad of 15 players who will average six feet one and a half inches.

The tallest man on the squad is Bellingham, six feet eight center from Wesleyville, followed by Bennet, ace forward, and Juline, guard, six feet four each. Only four men of the 15 fall under six feet, Arrowsmith, Demo, Gilliland and Meyer missing the six foot mark by only one inch.

Four freshman newcomers on the Titan squad, Grubb, Pawk, Stevenson and Bellingham, average six feet three inches in height.

Coach Lawther's Westminster style of play calls for tall players; the zone-system of defense requires constant shifting as the ball is passed from one offense man to another in an attempt to break through. Footshifts, simple to a tall player, would require actual running about the court by shorter players.

All-American Team Selected

Central Press All-Star Combination Picked By Fifty-four Captains

IS OUTSTANDING GRIDIRON OUTFIT

By BILL BRAUCHER
Central Press Sports Editor

The sixth annual Central Press Captains' All-American footba ll team is presented today. It represents the selection of 54 gridiron leaders from important schools in every part of the country.

Every major conference had a voice in the voting, and captains of important teams not identified with conferences—such as Army and Navy—expressed their preferences in the nation-wide poll which has grown tremendously in popularity since it introduction in 1930.

The team is unique in that it is the only one picked by the gridiron pilots themselves, men who play the game themselves and direct their teams on the field. They are in a position to know by acutal competition the abilities of their own teammates and their opponents.

The teams selected by these 54 captains are as follows:

Coach John Lawther And Westminster Team Demonstrate Before Big Crowd

WESTMINSTER TRIMS SHELBY ALL-STARS

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 5.—Before a crowd of over 200, Coach John Lawther and his famous Westminster team conducted a basketball clinic at the Shelby auditorium on Wednesday evening. Coaches, managers and players of the Shelby Inter-department Basketball league benefited greatly from the clinic. The Ellwood City high basketball squad with Coaches "Denny" Schill, Jerry Newton and "Dutch" Croft were special guests at this time.

Coach Lawther used two Westminster teams in the clinic and explained various plays and offenses and how to adapt a style of play that will fit your material. The famous zone defense was illustrated, man for man defense, and guard switching. Effective blocks were demonstrated.

Then while his team was resting up for their exhibition game with the Shelby All-Stars Coach Lawther explained the new rule changes this year with the proper illustrations with his players.

In the exhibition contest Westminster held complete mastery. They were threatened at no time and Coach Lawther used his entire squad. The audience saw a good exhibition of things that had just been told. The final score of the game was 39-12 for Westminster. At half-time it was 23-7.

Council To Use Old Method To Compile Budget

Will Be Possible To Account For Individual Sums

CITY OFFICIALS ASSEMBLE FIGURES

Council today agreed to the request of Mayor-elect Charles McGrath and Councilman D. O. Davies that the 1936 appropriations for the operation of the city be made out along the lines employed in former years rather than according to the new state plan because practically no progress was being made toward compiling a budget.

City Controller Earl Wimer sometime ago said this could be done and this opinion was voiced today by Finance Director Albert Hoyland. They with Finance Director-elect J. Leon Fink set out this afternoon to assemble figures and it is believed that the budget making will be expedited.

This decision was arrived after Mayor-elect McGrath had stated that no one could explain an approximate raise of $39,000 in appropriations for 1936 over 1935. Under the new plan some items have been assigned to departments in which formerly they were not placed.

Inasmuch as the regular forms have not arrived for making out the budget according to state law and other cities are using the old method, plus the unfamiliarity of councilmen with items in each others department it was decided to use the old method.

Under this method each old and new item will be considered at a round table discussion. A total will be arrived at which will be understood thoroughly by all, council agreed and it then will be possible to determine what the tax levy for 1936 will be.

Finance Director Hoyland, Controller Wimer and Councilman-elect Fink have stated that it will not be difficult for them to regroup the items into the forms when they arrive from Harrisburg. It is believed the move decided upon today will expedite the budget making.

Profit-Taking Halts Market

Halt Is Called In Market By Heavy Selling Wave

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Dec. 5. — Heavy profit-taking brought a pause to the stock market today after the wide advances of the last two days.

The rails, yesterday's buoyant spots, suffered losses running to a point. However, the utilities scored sizeable gains, liquors were better and metals continued in demand around their highs of the year.

Steels and oils moved up easily at the start but were unable to hold their gains.

Atchison, N. Y. Central and Great Northern were the most reactionary of the rails.

Anaconda hit a new high in the coppers and American Smelting was in demand. Cerro De Pasco was strong in the silvers.

Yeates collided with the rear of a truck parked on the highway about six miles north of Zelienople. The couple, with Rev. W. C. Billica, pastor of the Oak Grove U. P. church, were enroute home from Pittsburgh. Coming upon the truck suddenly, on a slippery road, Rev. Yeates was unable to turn aside because of an oncoming car. Neither he nor Rev. Billica were injured. The car was badly damaged.

Business Men Spurn Parley

Federal Agencies Seek To Secure Attendance At Monday Session

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—Two closely allied federal agencies went into action today in an attempt to pacify those business and industrial leaders who are aroused over what they call government interference with business and attempts to rejuvenate the supreme court-scrapped NRA.

Both moves were taken to try to insure Monday's industrial cooperation conference here some measure of success, but they were dampened soon after they were made by the statement Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., made in New York last night.

As president of General Motors Corp., Sloan called upon the administration to liquidate experiments "which have no part in our forward program. He told the business leaders he was adrdessing that he also meant the NRA and he described the forthcoming industrial conference here as "most unfortunate".

Perhaps anticipating such an outburst at the New York gathering, the mild-mannered and bespectacled George L. Berry, coordinator for industrial cooperation, viciously attacked those business men who have spurned his invitation to Monday's parley.

Believing unemployment and taxation will feature the subjects before the conference, Berry told his critics the conference will deal with "real problems of industry—not the fancied ones."

Furthermore he chided them by saying "it may require industrial statesmanship of an unusual type to grasp the opportunity laid before business at this time."

"I am confident that such leadership exists in the ranks of industry, and will come forward to direct the discussion into useful channels, instead of permitting the real issues to be obscured by a loud clamor about a thousand relatively unimportant things," Berry added.

He said the "NRA is dead" and there is no reason for some industrialists to have a "bad case of NRA jitters". He also denied the labor unions will dominate the conference, explaining the meeting will be a free discussion of industry's ills and methods for their correction.

Meanwhile Secretary of Commerce Daniel C. Roper acted to prevent the dissolution of his department's business advisory council by wholesale resignations.

The council is composed of 52 business and industrial leaders, quite a few of whom have resigned during the year because of their hostility to Roosevelt policies. Under Roper's leadership, the council decided to continue as an adjunct of the commerce department and to rotate its membership.

This will permit 23 members to quit Dec. 31 and have their places taken by new members to be named by Roper.

Furthermore the council recommended the personnel and the business survey work of the now voluntary NRA be transferred to the commerce department.

Decrease Of $610,466 Shown In November Over Month Of October

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Dec. 5.—Special emergency taxes for unemployment relief collected during November totaled $2,836,471, a decrease of $610,466 compared with October, it was revealed today by the department of revenue.

ROSENDAHL STILL PREFERS AIRSHIPS

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 5.—Despite five major disasters to American dirigibles since the World War, lighter-than-air ships still are safer than airplanes, Commander Charles Emery Rosendahl, U. S. Navy, a survivor of the Shenandoah crack-up declared here.

In each of the zeppelin crashes, Rosendahl asserted "there is a strong suspicion the fault was due to the human equation in matters of judgement."

"Airships," he said, "are basically safer than either civil or military planes, due to their lifting gas."
